Roach Interviewed in Relation to his Failure.

THE HOT WAVE OVER THE EAST.

Murat Halstead on the Ohio Campaign—A Savage Elephant Killed—A New Way of Booming a Newspaper—The Professional Regatta

NEW YORK, July 20.—John Roach when interviewed on the subject of his failure said: "Strictly speaking, it is not a failure, for my assignees will be able to pay $2 for every $1 of liabilities if they realize anything like the real value of my property. I cannot now say what is the exact amount of my liabilities nor assets, but if I were not so old a man and if I had my health I could put things straight again. If the people understood this matter, if the mendacious free trade press had not so extensively deceived them, the failure of John Roach would be recognized from ocean to ocean as a national calamity. This is a party question. I have been a republican, but above that I have first, last and ever been an American. It was my great ambition that our nation should recover its glory and prosperity on the seas. I wanted to prove that American merchandise made by American workmen in American shops could be sold the world over through the medium of American ships built from iron rolled in our shops and of timber cut from our own forests. I wanted to prove that we could do business on our own bottoms and that other nations with less resources could not be more sagacious and enterprising on the seas. I have given my life and my fortune to that end. Traduced and abused by those men and newspapers whom the foreign interests have subsidized and brought into scandal with millions of my fellow-citizens who were deceived by them and who did not understand my purposes, in my old and enfeebled state and after half a century of toil I have lost my money and spirits, but I am consoled by the fact that the people will one day understand it all and see it in its real value. I tell you those boats were condemned before their keels were laid. They were condemned in congress. The democracy dared not oppose our new navy because it had become a popular notion. The people in the United States wanted a navy, but the democracy opposed the appropriation because, as they claimed in their congressional speeches, the money could not be honestly spent. The Dolphin, a strong, substantial, excellent vessel was condemned on the most puerile technicalities, and to add to this injustice Attorney General Garland has repudiated the contracts and practically said that there exists no binding agreement between me and the government. That capped the climax—business stagnant, $30,000 of weekly wages to pay, my works to maintain and my contracts repudiated."

THE NEWS AT WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, July 20.—The announcement of the failure of John Roach caused genuine surprise here. It has been the principal topic of conversation in navy circles and hotel lobbies. The assignment is generally attributed to fear of future complications with the secretary of the navy in regard to the three unfinished cruisers, the Atalanta, Boston and Chicago. A great deal of sympathy is expressed for Roach, and the feeling is general that he has been driven into his unfortunate condition by the course of the secretary of the navy in regard to the Dolphin.

"It looks as if the government was getting left," said a prominent lawyer to-night. "Mr Whitney hasn't got his boat nor his money, which has been paid to Mr Roach, but he has got a lawsuit on his hands."

Secretary Whitney is out of town, and so is Attorney General Garland, so there can be no official information gathered as to what course the government will pursue regarding the complications and consequent delay in the completion of the three unfinished cruisers.

The trouble likely to grow out of Roach's assignment is deplored by naval officers generally. Of the three unfinished cruisers the Atalanta and the Boston are now about nine-tenths completed, and if the work could be pushed as rapidly as it has been ever since their commencement they might be finished and ready for their trial trips within a month or six weeks. Work upon the Chicago is not so far advanced, but members of the advisory board until the announcement of Roach's failure to-day expected that his vessel would be ready for the sea trip certainly by January 1.

The important question in regard to these cruisers now seems to be whether the government will go ahead and complete them or whether it will require that the work be done by the assignees. Rear Admiral Simpson, president of the advisory board, said to-night that a clause in the contract provided that in case of the failure of the contractor the government could complete the work itself, looking to the bondsmen for any additional expense beyond the contract price, and this was the course which seemed to him would most likely be pursued. He said that the government had retained sufficient money to complete the vessels. If, however, the assignees should determine to go on as representatives of Roach and complete those vessels they would probably have a perfect right to do so.

AFFAIRS AT CHESTER.

CHESTER, Pa., July 20.—Workmen at Roach's ship yard gathered about the gates to work as usual this morning, but only 332 were given employment. About 300, some from nearly every department, had to go home. Most of those retained were sent to the steamer Comal. It is the intention of the firm to finish the Comal by August 15, as she is expected to go to New York at that time. Then the yard will close down.

The government cruisers look deserted. Not a sound of hammer is heard about them. Roach says work will not be resumed on them unless ordered by the government. It is stated that the men who went to work this morning did so with the understanding that they would submit to a reduction of wages. All who were laid off were paid in full this evening. The streets all day have been crowded with idle people discussing the gloomy outlook.

COMPLETELY BROKEN DOWN.

NEW YORK, July 20.—Roach has received telegrams from prominent republicans in different parts of the country offering sympathy and financial assistance. His physician said yesterday: "You may say as emphatically as you please that Roach is in a broken down condition. He is suffering from great mental and physical prostration and his family is in great anxiety about him. His case is a melancholy instance of the overthrow of health by care and worry. Roach is in no condition to attend to business. I have advised his family to keep him free of all excitement. I have suggested to him the advisability of going away for awhile, for rest."

EXTREME HOT WEATHER.

CHICAGO, July 20—1 P. M.—Dispatches from various points throughout the northwest show that the hot wave extends all over Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin and Nebraska. At 8 o'clock this morning, at Des Moines the mercury stood 88 degrees above zero and now it's above [illegible]. Dubuque reports 90. Omaha 93. Cooler weather prevails in Minnesota and Manitoba, the thermometer marking 75 above, at Winnipeg 64 above. In Chicago the heat is increasing, now being 91 above in the shade. No fatalities have been reported.

PITTSBURG, Pa., July 20.—The intense heat of the past few days has caused great suffering among iron workers, though but one case of sunstroke is reported. The temperature at 7 o'clock this morning was 83 7-10 degrees, and at 2 o'clock this afternoon 92 degrees.

NEW YORK, July 20.—The weather to-day is extremely warm, but up to 2 P. M. only one case of sunstroke was reported. The thermometer registered at 3 A. M. 74 degrees, 6 A. M. [illegible] degrees, 9 A. M. 80 degrees, 12 M. 86 degrees, 2:30 P. M., 8[illegible] degrees.

CINCINNATI, July 20.—The heat to-day was not greater than yesterday. There was a perceptible fall in the temperature during the night. At 8 o'clock this morning the thermometer marked [illegible] degrees. At 10 it was 80, at 1 it was 90.

ST. LOUIS, July 20.—Heat here is tempered by a slight breeze, but the weather is exceedingly oppressive. No sunstrokes were reported. At 1 o'clock the thermometer registered 90 degrees.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 20.—The weather has been intensely hot all day, and at 2 P. M. the mercury registered 98 degrees in the shade. Several cases of prostration by heat are reported, but none are yet fatal.

BALTIMORE, July 20.—To-day has been the hottest day of the season. At 7 A. M. the thermometer stood at 80, at 11 A. M. 90, and at 1 P. M. 101. There were numerous sunstrokes, three fatal. The death rate has been largely increased by heat the past several days.

RICHMOND, Va., July 20.—The hot weather which has prevailed hereabout for nearly a week still continues. In this city the thermometer since last Wednesday has ranged from 85 to 100, between 9 A. M. and 4 P. M. each day. Yesterday between [illegible] M. and [illegible] P. M., the mercury in several places rose to 100 and 101. To-day it marked [illegible] degrees.

MURAT HALSTEAD INTERVIEWED.

NEW YORK, July 20.—Murat Halstead was asked to-day: "What is the outlook in Ohio?" "The republicans will carry the state," replied the Cincinnati editor. "Concerning any further probabilities it is somewhat early to talk. The republicans are in the field and the democrats are not. They have no avowed principles, no policy, no candidates. They don't know whether they are an administration party or not. The democrats will get together after a while, make a platform that dodges everything, nominate a ticket and try to run a dodging campaign. Depend upon it we shall carry Ohio because it is a national contest. If the republicans lose Ohio in the senate it will signify the delivery of the senate itself, the last of the keys to the democratic party."

HOPS AND BEER.

NEW YORK, July 20.—The statement recently made by some hop men that the present glut of their market was owing in part to the use of substitutes for hops by brewers is emphatically denied by those gentlemen. Hop dealers show by statistics that if the same amount of hops were put in each barrel of beer as formerly, namely, one and a half pounds, the entire crop of the world would not have sufficed for the amount of beer that has been brewed in recent years. A well known brewer denies this, saying: "A few years ago this state grew nearly all the hops that were raised in this country. Growers were comparatively few and had a regular monopoly of the business. They dictated prices, and we had to conform to them, for owing to the heavy tariff, importation then, except for the higher grades of beer, was out of all question. But now immense crops are raised in California, Oregon and Washington territory, and owing to the greater fertility of the soil on the Pacific coast, they can be produced much cheaper there than in the east, and will soon be of as fine a quality in every respect. It is this that makes them so cheap at present—not because we use any less of them, for we do not. There are too many rivals in the brewery business for a man to put an inferior article on the market, and he dare not make anything deleterious to health even if so disposed."

A SAVAGE ELEPHANT KILLED.

KEENE, N. H., July 20.—Barnum's large performing Asiatic elephant Albert, who killed his keeper James Sweeney at Nashua Saturday, was taken to a ravine on the outskirts of Keene this afternoon and killed. He was chained to four large trees and the location of his heart and brain marked with chalk. Thirty-three members of the Keene light guard were then marshaled in line at fifteen paces and at the word "Fire!" the same number of bullets penetrated the vital spots. The huge beast fell dead without a struggle. He was valued at $10,000. The remains have been donated to the Smithsonian institute at Washington.

THE WINDOW GLASS WORKERS.

PITTSBURG, July 20.—The convention of the universal federation of window glass workers, which has been in session since last Tuesday, adjourned to-night, having perfected an organization which includes all the window glass works of the world. Officers elected were: President, James Campbell, of Pittsburg; vice president, John Jarrett, of England; secretary and treasurer, Albert Delwarts, of Belgium; member of the executive council for America, John G. Slicker, of Pittsburg. The office of the universal federation will be in Charleroi, Belgium.

GRAIN IN SIGHT.

CHICAGO, July 20.—Following is the official board of trade statement of grain in sight in the United States and Canada on July 18, and the amount of increase or decrease over the preceding week: Wheat, 39,633,191, a decrease of 355,582; corn, [illegible], an increase of 89,961; oats, [illegible], a decrease of 213,040; rye, [illegible], a decrease of [illegible]; barley, 103,31[illegible], a decrease of 846.

THE MICHIGAN STRIKE.

EAST SAGINAW, Mich., July 20.—There is no change here to-day in regard to the strike. Strikers with their families are holding a picnic. Another shingle mill started up this morning at ten hours, but no others have started. The sheriff has asked the governor to withdraw the troops, there being no necessity for their retention. Probably they will leave Wednesday.

VANDERBILT WITHDRAWS.

PHILADELPHIA, July 20.—A prominent officer of the Pennsylvania railroad said to a Record reporter to-day that negotiations with Vanderbilt have been practically settled. Vanderbilt withdraws entirely from his Pennsylvania enterprise, excepting investments about Pittsburg and the coke region and in stock of the Reading company.

GENERAL GRANT'S CONDITION.

MOUNT MCGREGOR, N. Y., July 20.—Last night was a good one for sleep, the thermometer at General Grant's cottage showing the fall of temperature to be 68 degrees. The general slept at intervals, and this morning, after taking food, he wrote for Dr. Douglas that his rest during the night had been better than the average.

HEARING OF TESTIMONY CONCLUDED.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., July 20.—The commission appointed to make inquiries into the mental condition of John McCullough concluded its hearing of testimony to-day and adjourned until Wednesday next, when the jury will meet to consider the testimony and render the verdict.

ROACH'S LABORERS PAID IN FULL.

NEW YORK, July 20.—Workmen employed at John Roach's shop in this city were to-day paid off in full the wages due them. Until the present financial troubles of the Roaches are settled only a sufficient force to complete existing contracts will be retained.

THE FORTIFICATION BOARD.

NEWPORT, R. I., July 20.—The fortification board visited the torpedo station this morning, Secretaries Whitney and Endicott being among the party. Mrs Endicott was the only lady. A salute of nineteen torpedoes was fired in honor of Whitney.

SUICIDE OF A WIFE MURDERER.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., July 20.—John Gabet, who was arrested early Saturday morning for the brutal murder of his wife Emma in Hoboken, committed suicide this morning by hanging himself in his cell in the county jail.

CAR SHOPS DESTROYED.

CHICAGO, July 20.—The Wells & French car shops were fired by spontaneous combustion to-night and almost entirely destroyed. Loss $[illegible]00,000; insurance unknown.

AN ALLEGED FIGHT DISCREDITED.

FORT SNELLING, July 20.—General Terry has had no confirmation of the reported fight between Cheyennes and cowboys. The news is not credited at headquarters.

A STARTLING STORY.

A Chicago Publisher has a Child Abducted, and Booms his Paper with the Item.

CHICAGO, July 20.—The startling intelligence has been conveyed to the Inter Ocean that the abduction of a pretty little girl, Lillie Schaffer, which for the past few days has set the city wild with excitement, is a cool and carefully planned scheme of certain individuals who hope to make big capital out of it. It is alleged that a certain enterprising publisher of a local afternoon paper conceived the abduction scheme for the purpose of booming his sheet and reaping a temporary harvest. The publisher is accredited with having induced the parents of Lillie Schaffer to place their child in a secure place of concealment for an indefinite period until he could boom his paper and thus obtain value received for money invested in bringing about the plot. The story of the theft of the child smacked sufficiently of sincerity to find insertion in the columns of local papers, and the certain afternoon sheet has been especially zealous in printing sensational accounts of the alleged status of the case. The police and detective departments have been kept busy with hounding innocent Gypsy encampments, and the newspapers have printed in good faith various phases of the mysterious case. The interest which the affair has excited has been sufficient, it is claimed, to amply repay the publisher for his stroke of enterprise. It is thought that the next few days will disclose either the truthfulness or error of the disclosure.

SPORTING NOTES.

THE PROFESSIONAL REGATTA NEAR PITTSBURG.

PITTSBURG, July 20.—[illegible] thousand people assembled at McKee's Rocks this afternoon to witness the final heats in the Teemer regatta. The weather was very hot, but the water was smooth as glass. The event was a three mile professional scull race for a purse of $500. Entries were Teemer, Gaudaur, Ten Eyck, McKay, Hamm and Hosmer.

At the word "Go!" all took water together, but Teemer, rowing the fastest stroke, quickly went to the front. Before the contestants had gone thirty yards, however, Gaudaur drew up to Teemer and passed him; at the end of the first mile, turning the buoy three lengths in the lead, with Teemer second, Ten Eyck third, Hamm and McKay [illegible] for fourth and Hosmer bringing up the rear.

On the home stretch Teemer made an effort to close the gap, but Gaudaur pulled away from him and crossed the line four lengths in the lead. Time 19:[illegible]. Teemer second in 19:[illegible], and Ten Eyck third in 19:53.

Double scull—Gaudaur and Hosmer against Hamm and McKay. Gaudaur and Hosmer took the lead at the start and maintained it to the finish in 1[illegible].

The time made by Gaudaur, Teemer and Ten Eyck in the professional scull race is the fastest ever made, beating Teemer's record of 20:01 made at New Orleans last year.

At the conclusion of the regatta police raided the gamblers who were operating all kinds of games along the course. Their goods were seized and a large number arrested.

A second wagon came to the ford a few minutes later. In the second wagon were Mr and Mrs. Koates and Mr Jay Carman. They drove into the stream and were carried away also. Only three bodies have been recovered.

Gives to the breath the balm of flowers,

BOLD ROBBERY IN SAN FRANCISCO

An Interesting Account of the Wreck of the City of Tokio—Prominent Mormons Arraigned at Salt Lake—San Francisco News.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 20.—Shakespeare, representative of the city of Victoria in the Dominion parliament, who is at present in San Francisco on his way home from Ottawa, in an interview said, upon the question of passage of Chinese from British Columbia into United States territory, that it is constantly taking place. There are men who own sloops who make a regular and profitable business of taking loads of coolies from British territory to New Dungeness Spit, Port Discovery or San Juan. Numbers of Chinese also secrete themselves on the steamers and slip ashore at Port Townsend, some, of course, being detected, but not many. He thinks concerted action, if it is possible between both governments, is what is needed. The people in Canada, he states, are finally waking up in the matter of Chinese immigration. The near approach of the completion of the Canadian Pacific railway, which will open a thoroughfare over which Chinese immigrants can travel direct to the provinces, has set the inhabitants to considering what will be the effect upon the condition of a large number of the boys and girls now employed there in factories and other work, which Chinese will undoubtedly take out of their hands. Mr Shakespeare and others have had every opportunity to place these facts before the people, and not without effect. Mass meetings are being held and a general agitation inaugurated.

A DARING ROBBERY.

A surprisingly bold outrage occurred here yesterday afternoon, when four hoodlums garroted and robbed Conductor Hearne while riding in one of the cars of the Union street cable line. There were a number of passengers in the car, but no interference with the robbers' work was attempted. Several ladies fainted. About $150 in small change was obtained. As the thieves left the car one of the male passengers yelled to bystanders to stop the fleeing villains. One of them was captured, and from information obtained from him two others were arrested. Hearne was severely injured in the attack made on him, and was carried to the Cosmo house, where he was given medical attention.

THE CHANGE OF MINISTERS AT YOKOHAMA.

Advices to the associated press from Yokohama state that ex-Governor Hubbard of Texas, United States minister to Japan, was received by the emperor the 2d of July. Mr Bingham at the same time presented his letter of recall. Mr Hubbard, in a speech to the emperor, dwelt on the importance of increasing commerce between the United States and Japan, to which the emperor cordially responded. His majesty signified a desire to confer on Mr Bingham, retiring minister, the decoration of the first-class of the Rising Sun or the Order of Merit. Mr Bingham leaves for America by the steamer of July 21.

HELD TO ANSWER FOR MURDER.

COLUSA, Cal., July 20.—John Bowen, alias "Black Jack," had a preliminary examination here to-day before Justice Brasfield on a charge of murdering Charles Hemstreet in Princeton, this county, on the 5th of August last, and was held to answer to the charge before the superior court. Defendant was arrested and brought here from [illegible] county. The circumstances of the crime were about as follows: A crowd of young men were [illegible] in a saloon at the place named about 1 o'clock at night, when two masked men suddenly sprang in the door and ordered hands up. All complied except deceased, who drew a pistol. Immediately one of the robbers shot him through the breast. They both then fled without consummating a robbery and attempted to swim the river. One of them succeeded in getting across, but the other was drowned in the attempt and his body was found a week after with a mask and revolver still on him. The corpse was identified, however. Bowen is alleged to have been his companion. Evidence given against him was all circumstantial. Defendant has already served four terms in the state prison of this state for various felonies. There are now five men in jail here, convicted of murder or awaiting trial on that charge.

HIS DOG KNEW HE WAS DROWNED.

TRUCKEE, July 20.—On last Friday night M. Houlihan, a well known saloon keeper, mysteriously disappeared. He had been drinking freely of late and it was supposed that he had gone away from town for a few days. His favorite dog acted so strangely yesterday that universal attention was attracted to him. The dog would go to a bridge and whine and look into the water and return, making the trip several times. As Houlihan did not return a force of men turned out to-day and searched the Truckee river, guided by the dog's conduct, when his body was found, about 50 yards below the bridge. He had $11 in coin in his pocket and no marks of violence on his person. The coroner's jury returned a verdict of death from drowning.

ACCIDENTALLY KILLED.

LOS ANGELES, July 20.—Early this morning Charles Sims, a German aged 2[illegible] years, was killed while stealing a ride on a brakebeam about three miles south of San Fernando. He fell off the brake and was dragged along the track some distance when the train was stopped and the body was picked up. Life was extinct. The remains were brought to this city and an inquest held. The verdict of the jury was in accordance with the above facts, no blame being attached to the railroad company or its employes. Sims had been working at the Newhall ranch, but nothing is known of his antecedents.

HOMICIDE AT MODESTO.

MODESTO, July 20.—Last night a stranger known as Charlie and John Lesher, proprietor of the Riverside saloon at the edge of this city, had a dispute, which ended in Charlie shooting Lesher in the breast with a shot gun, killing him almost instantly. The murderer turned and disappeared in the timber. The country was scoured all night by incensed and excited men, but up to 9 o'clock this morning they had not captured him. They have a good description of him and the fugitive can hardly escape.

WANTED TO KILL HER HUSBAND.

LOS ANGELES, July 20.—Mary [illegible], aged [illegible], of Santa Monica, who has for some time been given to actions of a weakening mind, last Thursday possessed herself of a revolver and threatened the lives of her husband and children. She was arrested before doing damage, and to-day was committed to Stockton by Judge Cheney.

CHARGED WITH ARSON.

SAN JOSE, July 20.—A stack of barley belonging to Mrs. Mast, a Mayfield farmer, was burned Saturday night, and to-day Mast procured the arrest of James D Fay and Frank Goodwin, neighboring farmers, on a charge of arson. The men assert their innocence and say the arrest is malicious.

A ROBBER SENTENCED.

PORT COSTA, July 20.—Frank [illegible], convicted on Saturday of having robbed the Port Costa house of diamonds and other jewelry last week, was to-day sentenced to imprisonment at San Quentin for fifteen months.

THE WRECK OF THE TOKIO.

An Interesting Account of her Going Ashore and Breaking Up near Yokohama.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 20.—From passengers of the steamer Arabic, which arrived yesterday from China and Japan, the following account of the loss of the steamer City of Tokio is obtained: On Tuesday evening, June 23, about 7 o'clock, the light of Cape King was sighted. The night grew dark early, and after sighting the light a thick fog settled down. The Tokio after sighting the light made up the bay for Yokohama. It was impossible to distinguish landmarks along the shore. Commodore Maury was aware of the danger and was on the bridge peering into the fog and darkness. The first, third and fourth officers were also on deck. The Tokio kept steadily on her course until midnight, when suddenly the man on the lookout and the commodore on the bridge felt the great vessel sliding easily and noiselessly on a shelving rock. In an instant the prow had pushed into a bluff, and trees on the bank stretched their limbs over the rail of the Tokio. The great vessel rested quietly on a bed of rocks. There was neither wind nor waves to pound her to pieces, and she slipped into her dangerous position so quietly that no one on board was frightened or aroused by any violent shock.

ALL EFFORTS FRUITLESS.

Her engines were at once reversed and all the strength in the machinery exerted to back her off the rocks. Her screw churned the water, but the Tokio held fast to her dangerous position. It was about high tide, and the officers and crew worked all night to draw the Tokio from her dangerous position, but the tide went out, morning came and she was still on the rocks. As the tide went down the whole weight of the vessel, estimated at about 6000 tons, rested on the keel, and under this great weight her sides began to sag. It was decided at once to lighten a part of the cargo to relieve the frame of the vessel of the great weight pressing against it. A large quantity of flour was thrown overboard, and the sea was white for miles.

In the afternoon of Wednesday, June 24, a launch came off from Yokohama and took the passengers aboard, among them Minister Hubbard. The treasure was also taken off safely. There was no alarm, however, on board the Tokio. The sea remained calm, the vessel rested quietly on the edge of rocks. No alarm was felt at Yokohama for the safety of the vessel, and many hours elapsed before the necessary appliances were got together for her relief. Every effort that was made to get the Tokio off failed. It was found that a rock had punctured her bottom in the forward compartment, and it was decided to build a coffer dam around the damage, water being let into the after part of the steamer to keep her steady. This, however, proved unsuccessful, like other efforts.

SHE GOES TO PIECES.

Seeing that hope of getting the Tokio off was waning, Commodore Maury set to work to save as much of the cargo as possible. The cargo for Yokohama and Shanghai was saved, but the cargo for Hong Kong was lost. The officers and crew staid by the ship day after day, each hour making the rescue of the vessel less probable. Finally on July 2, about 4 o'clock in the afternoon, the barometer on board suddenly fell. The commodore announced that a great change in the weather would quickly follow, and ordered the crew and attaches of the ship, 336 in all, ashore. Commodore Maury was one of the last to leave the vessel. Hardly had the ship's company got on land when a terrible typhoon came up. A violent wind shook the masts of the vessel, and as they heaved back and forth they rattled the plates of the ship, loosening the bolts and shattering the whole framework of the hull. The seas came higher and higher and broke over the vessel, disintegrating her in every part. Finally a succession of terrible seas dashed over and washed her out of sight. The last vestige of her that was seen was the end of the foreyard. The ship's company stood on the bluff and saw the seas break the great ship to pieces. In a few moments the Tokio was entirely gone from sight, and the officers and crew proceeded to Yokohama.

AN AMERICAN KILLED BY MISTAKE.

NEW YORK, July 20.—Advices from Santo Domingo report a peculiar affair on the evening of June 28. John Platt, of Yonkers, N. Y., a carpenter, was stopping at the hotel San Pedro, where ex-President Sesarce, who had returned from exile under amnesty, was also a guest. The authorities suspected Sesarce of plotting against the government, and sent a squad of soldiers to arrest him. The ex-president fired at the would-be captors, blew out the light and made good his escape through a dark corridor. Platt, aroused by the noise, stepped out in the hall, and the guard, though only twenty feet distant, mistook him for the fugitive, and nine muskets at once were fired at him. Five balls took effect, and he fell dead. The killing caused considerable commotion among resident Americans.

GENERAL NEWS.

Particulars of the Recent Battle in Colombia.

WASHINGTON NEWS AND GOSSIP.

The Mexican Minister Makes a Statement—Effect of the "Pall Mall Gazette's" Revelations—Russia Bound to Have Herat.

WASHINGTON, July 20.—Under date of Savanilla, United States of Colombia, July 1, Admiral Jouett reports a battle between the government forces and the revolutionists in which 1000 men were killed. The admiral says: "The revolutionary forces number only 2500 men, but they hold a number of large river steamers and are able to move freely on the Magdalena river, while the government forces, having but two small steamers, are obliged to move by land. On June 10, General Camargo, a very prominent Colombian politician and leader, arrived at this port in an English steamer, and immediately assumed command of the revolutionary army. The arrival of Camargo, who is a violent liberal, effectually defeated efforts to secure peace by treaty, which would undoubtedly have been successful had he remained away awhile longer. Camargo quickly attacked the government force of 1500 with his whole army. Although Camargo claims to have won the battle he admits suffering severe loss, including seven of his best generals. It is reported that each side lost about 500 men.

The revolutionists clearly intend to confine their operations to the Magdalena river and the interior. This, together with the fact that the government has no steam vessel of war on the coast, insures the isthmus and vessels on the high seas against any chance of disturbance by the revolutionists.

All reports from the isthmus indicate that political matters there remain settled and that peace and good order prevail. There is, however, an alarming epidemic of yellow fever at Aspinwall, and all over the isthmus."

THE SMITH COURT MARTIAL.

WASHINGTON, July 20.—The court martial appointed to try Paymaster General Smith of the navy on charges of scandalous conduct and culpable inefficiency, met this morning. Counsel for the defense filed a demurrer claiming there was nothing in the charges or specifications to show any criminality on the part of the paymaster general, and hence he was not punishable.

Jeff Chandler spoke two hours in support of the demurrer. He argued that it was an every-day occurrence for government contracts to be changed or extended, and cited numerous instances where the government had been obliged to pay for such contracts.

The assistant attorney general replied that while the paymaster was not considered guilty of a crime he could be punished for abuse of discretion. He said Smith had doubled contracts and had ordered contracts for one fiscal year paid out of appropriations for another, thus involving paymasters subject to his order in complications with the government. He declared Smith had acted in the very teeth of the law, had defied the law, and to say this was not an offense was to render officers free from all responsibility.

MINISTER ROMERO'S OPINION.

WASHINGTON, July 20.—Senor Romero, Mexican minister, having had his attention called to a dispatch from San Francisco regarding the fining of the captain of the Pacific Mail Company's steamer Colima for failing to produce for inspection bills of lading of his entire cargo at Mazatlan, said: "The Mexican government on the 24th of January, this year passed a new tariff law, to take effect the first of the present month. It was published six months in advance in order that mariners having business with Mexico might know its provisions and comply with them. It was translated into English and published in the United States. Article 43 provided that vessels arriving at Mexican ports shall present to the government a statement of their entire cargo without regard to its ultimate destination, and established a maximum and minimum fine in case of non-compliance. The captain of the Colima was assessed the minimum fine. The provision may or may not be wise, but it is a provision that every vessel must comply with, and the Pacific Mail Company has no reason to complain."

CATTLE TRAILS TO BE LEFT OPEN.

WASHINGTON, July 20.—The following is a copy of the telegram in relation to the opening of the cattle trail in Indian territory, which has been sent to Lieut. #### HORRIBLE CASES BROUGHT TO LIGHT.

LONDON, July 20.—Since the exposures of the Pall Mall Gazette many horrible cases are brought to the attention of the authorities. In many of these cases the victims and their friends have been afraid to prosecute until now, when the taking up of the crusade by the most powerful dignitaries of the church bids them hope that justice may at last be done even against rich and titled libertines. Such a case was brought in the Bow street court yesterday. The complainant, a widow of good social position and undoubted respectability, came to demand a warrant for the arrest of a well known baronet, whom she charged with having abducted and ruined her daughter four years ago, when the girl was only 1[illegible] years old. She swore that the baronet had tracked the child daily and finally entrapped her into a carriage, took her to a secluded house in the suburbs, which he kept for such occasions, and kept her a close prisoner for months. The baronet's name was withheld by the justice, but he issued a warrant.

PROHIBITION AGAIN.

In several states the leaders of a small faction of the prohibitionists are again preparing for independent political action, with a view to the elections of the coming fall. There appears, however, to be less intensity of purpose among them than was exhibited last year This may be due in part to perception by certain ones among them that their work of last year was ill-advised in its conception and a mistake in its results. The greater body of prohibitionists do not think that the cause which they support can be advanced by independent political action. Hence St. John did not receive last November one-tenth of the prohibition vote of the country. For example, only the year before, Ohio had thrown 823,000 votes for a prohibition amendment, yet St. John's vote in the state was only 11,069. The small faction of third-party prohibitionists of that state a short time ago nominated Reverend Dr. Leonard, a Methodist clergyman, for the governorship, but even his own congregation refuse to support him, and from careful inquiry throughout the state it is concluded that the vote of this third-party faction will not be larger at the coming election than it has been in former years.

The fact is well understood by most prohibitionists that there must be a sentiment behind any law to make that law effective. They would destroy the liquor traffic, and are working for that end; and yet they know that a great deal more is needed to accomplish it than a statute, or even a constitutional amendment. Moreover, they recognize the injudiciousness of any policy that would antagonize or alienate multitudes of the friends of temperance by pushing this question unseasonably, when other questions claim attention. A distinct party organization to promote this one reform, can, for these reasons, never command more than a small part of the real strength of the opposition to the liquor traffic. This has been proven over and over again.

There are multitudes who want to destroy the liquor traffic who perceive that it is vain to expect this result in the absence of its necessary conditions. They understand fully that a general principle is applicable here, which must be complied with in the moral as well as in the physical world. Here and there a moralist will be found passionately arguing that the conduct of men, which is simply the expression of their impulses and habits, can be altered at once by suggesting new ideas of conduct, and backing it up by the assumed force of law. But law in such circumstances has little or no force, and hence the ineffectiveness of nearly all attempts to remedy social evils by legislative enactments. Reforms, like constitutions, must grow. You can't have a republic where there are no men who desire republican government.

The subject has still another side. It may be set forth in a formula stated in a recent book of great power, entitled Natural Law in the Spiritual World. The writer says "Any principle which secures the safety of the individual without personal effort or the vital exercise of faculty is disastrous to moral character." This is presented truly as a law of moral character, just as it is a physical law that "any principle which secures food to the individual without expenditure of work is injurious, and accompanied by degeneration." Persons who are temperate on principle and through moral development are persons of character and value but what can you say of those whom you expect to keep from harm by shielding them from temptation—or in other words, by securing their safety without requiring of them the exercise of faculty? Moral character is not built up so. The Maker of man laid the foundation of moral character in him by setting before him good and evil, and leaving him to choose Development of moral character on any other basis is really unthinkable. Applied to the subject before us this is the result: There is no sure foundation for temperance in prohibitory laws. Educated temperance is worth a great deal, statutory temperance has small present and no surely permanent value.

A CHANGED PUBLIC SENTIMENT.

A dispatch from San Francisco says that Chris. Buckley's exposure of fraud in the matter of Chinese immigration, which was expected to revive the anti-Chinese spirit in California in its old-time violence, has fallen flat. There is an attempt to account for this through the illness of Buckley's secretary, to whom the management of the revelation was given, but this is a very lame explanation. If popular interest in the Chinese question was what it was three or four years ago something more serious than the illness of a Buckley under strapper would be required to check public rage over charges as serious as those put forth The fact is that the Chinese question as a political issue is about worked out in California. The people are thoroughly tired of it. Politicians and newspapers harp on it as a matter of habit, but there is no longer any response on the part of the people, and even such exposures as those made by Buckley fail to create a ripple of popular excitement.

The anti-Chinese agitation was sadly overdone in California. A good cause was outraged by the extravagance of political leaders and the competition of political parties. The people came in course of time to see that they had been led into folly, that their attitude was an absurd exaggeration An unnatural tension maintained for some years, has resulted as always follows, in apathy The people now care or appear to care nothing for the issue which only a little while back was the burden of all political discussion and the impulse of every political movement. So serious is the neglect of this really great question that there is danger that the public welfare will not be properly guarded The Pacific coast cannot afford to be indifferent to this question.

The Chinese residents of San Francisco are the victims of a petty persecution, which originated in the hight of the anti-Chinese rage and which has been kept up partly through habit and partly through the operation of discriminating laws, enacted during the "mad period." The recent announcement of the superintendent of public instruction, that the children of Chinese are barred by the state constitution from the public schools, is an example of this spirit. This particular instance would not seem so unjust if the Chinese were not taxed to support the schools by the same law which denies to them their advantages The Chinese residents of San Francisco alone pay $120,000 per year direct school tax, and pay it without protest, and it seems wrong—indeed it is wrong—to bar out their children. In the matter of watering and sweeping the streets the Chinese are again treated unjustly They pay into the San Francisco city treasury $40,000 per year to this particular fund, and yet they get no benefit from it. The sweeping and watering machines never enter the Chinese quarter unless specially paid by its denizens.

These petty meannesses are recognize as such and are condemned by most people who have knowledge of them in San Francisco, and their effect naturally enough is to make friends for the Chinese Indeed, from one cause or another, the tide so long set against John Chinaman is now turning in his favor The failure of Mr. Buckley's sensation is a notable matter as illustrating the change in public sentiment

The war against Chinese labor was never placed fairly on its proper ground in California. Scores of exaggerated and fancied grievances of a striking sort were made much of, but never, excepting incidentally, was the most serious objection put forth There was never a time in California when the Chinaman crowded the white laborer to the wall. There was never a time when there were men enough to do the work needed to be done in California, and wages there were never down to a point comparable with the wage basis of the eastern states. And yet, labor was in distress in California through Chinese competition. It was not driven from the field, but it was made ashamed The result was quite as serious one way as the other. Any kind of labor is degraded in the public estimation by being done by an inferior or enslaved race. The effect of Chinese coolie competition in California was precisely the effect of negro slave competition in the south Labor was put in contempt and thousands of young men became hoodlums, and thousands of young women became public prostitutes through its degradation. Here is the present objection to the coming of the Chinese. The coolie and the white man will not dig side by side, the coolie and the white girl will not serve in the same household on equal terms. These scruples may be called foolish or even vicious but they are factors in the situation as much to be considered as if they were ever so well based. If all other objections that have been urged against the Chinese were swept away, if there were no economic or social reasons why they should not come among us, still we believe this chief objection we have named serious enough to warrant the existing restriction law. A nation whose corner stone is equality must suffer no assaults upon the dignity of labor

This journal has never considered the Chinese question a question of politics, though it has mixed a great deal in political platforms and debates. Both parties on this coast have claimed superior zeal in opposing Chinese immigration. Both, indeed, have done all they could in the face of eastern opposition, based on sentimentalism. But the democrats have cried out the loudest and have succeeded in creating the false impression that their party is in a national sense the anti-Chinese party. The democrats are now in power and what are they doing to demonstrate their anti-Chinese character? Something worse than nothing. It should not be forgotten that the restriction act was a republican measure put in force by a republican president. Let us see if a democratic administration will do as much, or even if it will maintain what has already been done.

A TALE OF A COW.

The St. Helens Columbian is the vehicle of a discussion which is shaking the social and religious foundations of Beaver valley, W. T. Among the residents of that fair valley (which offers the usual inducements to immigration) is a highly-respected gentleman who graces the commonplace character of farmer with the higher duties of the Christian ministry. The teachings of this excellent man have been put forth according to the primitive Bible rule without money and without price, and being accepted on these generous terms have wrought some local good. But in an evil hour one A. B. Coe, designing no doubt to harm the Christian cause through its human instrument, charged publicly through the Columbian that the agricultural reverend had wantonly maimed a cow by amputating her tail, and to the charge of cruelty added another of sacrilege by specifying that the deed was done on the Lord's day. A champion of the preacher and his cause arose in the person of Mr G. G. Goodfellow, also of Beaver valley, and the contest wages with much bitterness. Mr. Goodfellow, in a recent letter, declared that "the preacher did not cut the cow's tail off, but he did split her tail to cure her of the hollow horn." He adds that this necessary and quite proper, though not exactly ministerial operation, was performed, not on Sunday, but on Saturday, thus entirely clearing up the charge of immorality. Of course an act of this kind committed on Saturday is very different in its moral aspects from a similar act committed on Sunday; unless perhaps it can be construed as an "act of necessity or mercy" and so authorized by holy writ. Still, the cow is not expressly named in the injunction of the Savior respecting a matter of this kind. It is not well to wander too far from the exact word, and because we are authorized to help asses out of pits on the Lord's day, we should not in conceit of human wisdom take this as license to cut off or even split the tails of cows on that day. There is no reason other than that afforded by weak, speculative analogy, to assume that the Savior meant to include the hollow-horn as a subject of special Sunday license. There is always danger in wandering, and it was with a sense of relief that we read Mr. Goodfellow's decisive statement that the act was done on Saturday. Not content, however, with an explanation which was complete, Mr Goodfellow closed his letter with a withering reference to Mr. Coe as a "spider-legged dude."

It was, perhaps, this last unkind cut that brought Mr. Coe again to the front in the Columbian of last week. He repeats the original charge, and offers the cow and so much of her tail as is left in evidence. This would be a clincher indeed but for the legal inadmissibility of mutilated documents as evidence. Mr Coe also reiterates the specification as to the date of execution, declaring positively that the deed was done on Sunday, and offering to prove it by three citizens of Beaver valley. We pass over a detail of Mr Coe's letter concerning Mr. Goodfellow's qualifications and methods as a masher as unworthy of a serious discussion. Here the matter rests for the present A hint of why this interesting case is fought out in words through a newspaper, and not with fists, in the good old-fashioned way, is suggested by the charge of each that the other is the biggest liar in Beaver valley

A VICTIM OF INGRATITUDE.

Mr Meade of Copiah county, Mississippi, who has been dismissed from office by President Cleveland, rightly considers himself a deeply injured man. Nay, he regards the treatment he has received as more than a personal affront, it is an insult to the Meades all over the south, through whose courageous action with shotguns and skill in the finer mysteries of ballot-boxing, the 153 electoral votes of the solid south were plumped for Mr Cleveland. To express his indignant sense of the injury he has received for doing his duty as a shot-gun democrat and making Mr. Cleveland's election possible, Mr. Meade has written a letter (indirectly) to the president, which is published in the New Orleans Times-Democrat. In vindication of the conduct of himself and his fellow democrats of the south, Mr. Meade submits facts to a candid world.

He says he helped to free the south "from the most dangerous organizations that over lorded it over a free people," and that he has "no apology to offer Mr. Cleveland or his mugwump friends for anything he did in that campaign." Moreover, "the action of the president does not meet the approval of the people of the south, the only persons who have a right to be heard in the matter," but he bitterly remarks that the president seems to have "cared little what the southern people thought of it, since it meets the approval of his northern republican allies."

It is clear that Mr. Meade is a victim of marble-hearted ingratitude. But for him and others like him Mr. Cleveland would still be among the obscurest men of the country. The votes of six to ten states were carried for him by the same violent and bloody methods for which Mr Meade is censured before the country, just to please the mugwumps. As the fruit of the work of Mr. Meade and his associates all over the south Mr. Cleveland holds the presidency. Would not true repentance lead him further than the dismissal of Meade? Would it not require him to resign? Can one be pardoned and retain the offence? Really it doesn't look well in him to disapprove and punish the foul murders committed or approved by the Meades, since he is in possession of the effects for which they did the murders, and eagerly holds on to them.

There is a general tone of irritability and unhappiness in the circles of bogus journalism It is much more prevalent than hitherto. By this token it may be guessed that hard times in the circles of bogus journalism are getting even harder than heretofore The brethren of the "guild" are becoming testy, captious, waspish Well, bunko games, bogus journalism, and all those things flourish most in periods of inflation and speculation, and least when money is scarce and hard to get

The esteemed Standard prints a statement to the effect that there isn't much of anything in Monday's OREGONIAN. Small as the amount of matter may be in that paper, about one-fifth of it constitutes the whole readable contents of Monday's afternoon Standard.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST.

WASHINGTON.

Mr. T. J. Razor, of upper Wishkah river, lost his house and logging outfit by fire a few days ago.

The farmers of Whatcom, Skagit and Island counties have secured their hay crop without loss or damage by rain.

Clallam county loggers are doing a good business this year. Every week one or two booms of sawlogs are towed away from there.

There are sixty men employed on the Little Skookum railroad at Puget Sound. Two miles of the track have been cleared, and one mile of grading has been finished.

At the coroner's inquest held at Tacoma Saturday last in the body of James McMillan, a verdict was rendered charging Wm. M. White with the murder, and Thomas White as being an accessory.

Farmers in Clallam county are cutting heavy crops of hay this year Grain crops also are generally good. Some of the potato crops are affected slightly with rot and drouth, and early digging is made necessary.

Quite extensive fires have been raging in the woods north of Montesano As yet it has damaged nothing more than the timber, but fears are entertained that it may get into Goodell's log road, or destroy some of the residences in the edge of the timber.

There are now six vessels loading lumber at Port Discovery, as follows: Ship Enos Soule, for South America, schooner Falcon, for San Diego, schooner Joseph Russ, for San Pedro, schooner Maggie E. Russ, for San Francisco, schooner Joshua Grindle, for San Francisco; schooner Vesta, for San Francisco.

Whatcom Reveille. San Juan county is noted for her agricultural advantages, vast lime ledges and sheep ranges. Hogs and fowls do well and gardens flourish. The islands are fast settling up with industrious people, school houses and churches are becoming more numerous, and many beautiful homes now dot a hundred islands in the San Juan group.

Harmon Cassiday, an employe of Littlejohn & Kirkendall, met with quite a severe accident on Thursday morning. While on his way, with George Rynearson, to South bay, Cassiday had occasion to load a shotgun, and while screwing on a cartridge an explosion took place, scattering the contents in every direction. The first finger of Cassiday's left hand was shattered into shreds, and amputation was necessary.

Thursday evening the steamer Bob Irving stopped at Johnson's Point, below Olympia, to wood up. The float on which the wood is piled is about fifteen or twenty feet from the shore. Two Chinamen employed in the camp started out to the float in a dugout to take the steamer's lines, when the swell upset their frail craft. One of them clung to the boat and was rescued, the other went to the bottom like a rock, and was drowned in about eight feet of water.

Port Townsend Argus: Nine canoes filled with Indians of the Uthlulec band, Barclay sound, arrived here yesterday from New Westminster. Twenty-one more canoes are expected to-day. These Indians are bound to the hop fields, and from present appearances there will be no lack of hop pickers this season. There are between 200 and 300 Indians of all ages in this party. The whole force of the custom house turned out to visit them on their arrival, but as they had no dutiable goods in their canoes the officers turned their attention to the purchase of gay colored mats and other curios which the natives have for sale

The Northwest Enterprise says The fishing industry is destined ere long, we believe, to be of considerable importance to Skagit county. The herring fisheries recently established on the west side of Guemes island, by Thomas Bros. & McLane and Garrison & Leonard, are prospering finely. Two large smoke houses have been erected on the grounds, and an extensive fish weir, jointly owned by these two firms, has been constructed in front of the property of Amos Johnson. Herring are very plentiful in this locality, and as high as thirty barrels were captured at one haul recently. Some halibut have also been caught and smoked, but the herring business is the principal industry While our herrings are not equal to those caught on the coast of Newfoundland and in the bay of Fundy, it is believed that when properly cured they will be fully as palatable, and find ready sale on this coast and in eastern markets. The smaller and inferior fish are utilized by Mr. Hammond in the manufacture of oil and guano on his place on Cypress island, opposite the fishery

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

Willie, eldest son of Dr. Thornber, was drowned while bathing in the North Arm, near New Westminster, on Monday. The boy was nearly 13 years of age.

There is great excitement in the mountains owing to the discovery of quartz gold in large quantities at the Big Bend of the Columbia, a day's tramp from the Second Crossing. The quartz has already run into tens of thousands of dollars to the ton, and prospectors are making a rush to the new gold fields. Five men discovered it.

Mr Gailbraith informs the Victoria Times that those engaged in mining in the Kootenai country are moving along as usual The miners on Findlay creek are waiting for the water to fall in order to press operations. There are some forty men at work on that stream, and placers pay from $2 to $10 per day to the man

While workmen were blasting on Humboldt street, in Victoria, the other day, a blast let off about noon destroyed a small portion of James Bay bridge, and one large piece of rock went through the roof of a house back of Seeley's hotel, where a lady was engaged cooking dinner, destroying the noon meal and narrowly missing the lady, who was near the stove at the time.

The exploring party under Mr. Priest, says the Nanaimo Free Press, discovered a large quantity of excellent farming land between Nanoose, the Qualicum and Cameron lake. The country between Nanoose and Cameron lake offers a splendid route for a road at a very nominal cost, and would open up tracts of really superior land, on which could be placed a large number of settlers On the Little Qualicum and the forks of Englishman's river excellent land was discovered No difficulty would be experienced in constructing a road to Cameron lake and around it, but in getting from the lake to the Alberni plateau there would be a mile or two down the mountain that would be very expensive.

Boise City has its first lodge of Knights of Pythias.

The new capitol building at Boise City will cost $80,000

On the 2d of July a 10-year [illegible] son of B Glatheart was thrown from his horse at Salubria, sustaining severe injuries from which it was expected the little fellow would die.

From the report of the United States assayor at Boise City we learn that the amount of bullion purchased during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1884, was $171,710 20, while the amount purchased during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1885, was $197,655 57, an increase of $25,936 37, or about 15 per cent The receipts for the present month, the first of the current fiscal year, are indicating a business largely in excess of that of the year just closed.

Atlanta News The Monarch mill started up on the 7th inst., and is now steadily grinding away. There are about 500 tons of ore in the bins, and more daily arriving. The mill is one of 15 stamps, and is capable of reducing the ore to about on an average of 60 per cent, and the ore being of a good grade, a most handsome season's run is expected. The Last Chance mill is being worked upon with a view to starting up about the first of August. The Buffalo mill dropped its stamps on the 2d of the month, and, as the mill had undergone a thorough course of repairs, a steady and continuous run will doubtless be the result There is plenty of good ore in the bins, and plenty more being extracted and transported to the mill The mill is backed by a good little mine, and run under a careful and economical management, therefore a continued production of bullion is pretty certain

Last Monday Frank Kannis, a well-known Bear gulch (Gallatin county) miner, had a quarrel with a man named James Stephens, resulting in Kannis being shot and severely wounded in the groin by Stephens His injuries were of such a serious character that he died within a few hours. No particulars of the tragedy or its cause have been received. Stephens is under arrest.

Last Thursday night a fire broke out at Benton in the vicinity of the Odd Fellows' temple, occupied by the River Press, and resulted in the burning of that building and Roosevelt's furniture store and warehouse. The total loss was $20,000 and the insurance about $13,000. Nearly all the material of the River Press was saved. The paper's loss is fully covered by insurance.

OREGON.

There is considerable demand for harvest hands in Union county, says the Sentinel.

On the first of the month Mr Koontz, living on upper Burnt river, left home with his gun, dogs and horse for a deer hunt in the mountains. Not returning home on the third, and his horse having returned home the night before, a party went in search for him. His body was found, a bullet having fractured his thigh and ranged upwards. It is supposed that he suffered great agony, as he crawled some distance before death relieved him.

James Gent was drowned in the river in Indian valley on Sunday last. He and several others were fishing in the river with a seine, and while three of them were wading down the river in the water up to their arm pits, carrying the seine, they stepped off into a deep hole. All three sunk, but two rose and swam ashore, Gent not coming up. They pulled up the seine, which was fast on something, when it suddenly gave way and the drowned man's hat floated to the surface. It is supposed he had been entangled in the seine till that time. After much search he was found next day on the bottom, only twenty or thirty feet from where he went down

"Jefferson Davis has been heard from again in a letter opposing the use, in schools, of histories which teach the idea that the federal government is sovereign in this country. Mr. Davis should crawl back into the dark corner of his cave and sit down on a damp rock." So says the Philadelphia Press. Jeff., we may add, pins his faith to "Jeffersonian democracy," and Jeffersonian democracy, though some people may will talk about it, is as dead in fact as the crusades. It was shot to pieces from Sumter to Appomattox.

PROHIBITION AGAIN.

In several states the leaders of a small faction of the prohibitionists are again preparing for independent political action, with a view to the elections of the coming fall. There appears, however, to be less intensity of purpose among them than was exhibited last year. This may be due in part to perception by certain ones among them that their work of last year was ill-advised in its conception and a mistake in its results. The greater body of prohibitionists do not think that the cause which they support can be advanced by independent political action. Hence St. John did not receive last November one-tenth of the prohibition vote of the country. For example, only the year before, Ohio had thrown 323,000 votes for a prohibition amendment; yet St. John's vote in the state was only 11,069. The small faction of third-party prohibitionists of that state a short time ago nominated Reverend Dr. Leonard, a Methodist clergyman, for the governorship; but even his own congregation refuse to support him, and from careful inquiry throughout the state it is concluded that the vote of this third-party faction will not be larger at the coming election than it has been in former years.

The fact is well understood by most prohibitionists that there must be a sentiment behind any law to make that law effective. They would destroy the liquor traffic, and are working for that end; and yet they know that a great deal more is needed to accomplish it than a statute, or even a constitutional amendment. Moreover, they recognize the injudiciousness of any policy that would antagonize or alienate multitudes of the friends of temperance by pushing this question unseasonably, when other questions claim attention. A distinct party organization to promote this one reform, can, for these reasons, never command more than a small part of the real strength of the opposition to the liquor traffic. This has been proven over and over again.

There are multitudes who want to destroy the liquor traffic who perceive that it is vain to expect this result in the absence of its necessary conditions. They understand fully that a general principle is applicable here, which must be complied with in the moral as well as in the physical world. Here and there a moralist will be found passionately arguing that the conduct of men, which is simply the expression of their impulses and habits, can be altered at once by suggesting new ideas of conduct, and backing it up by the assumed force of law. But law in such circumstances has little or no force, and hence the ineffectiveness of nearly all attempts to remedy social evils by legislative enactments. Reforms, like constitutions, must grow. You can't have a republic where there are no men who desire republican government.

The subject has still another side. It may be set forth in a formula stated in a recent book of great power, entitled Natural Law in the Spiritual World. The writer says: "Any principle which secures the safety of the individual without personal effort or the vital exercise of faculty is disastrous to moral character." This is presented truly as a law of moral character, just as it is a physical law that "any principle which secures food to the individual without expenditure of work is injurious, and accompanied by degeneration." Persons who are temperate on principle and through moral development are persons of character and value; but what can you say of those whom you expect to keep from harm by shielding them from temptation—or in other words, by securing their safety without requiring of them the exercise of faculty? Moral character is not built up so. The Maker of man laid the foundation of moral character in him by setting before him good and evil, and leaving him to choose. Development of moral character on any other basis is really unthinkable. Applied to the subject before us this is the result: There is no sure foundation for temperance in prohibitory laws. Educated temperance is worth a great deal; statutory temperance has small present and no surely permanent value.

A CHANGED PUBLIC SENTIMENT.

A dispatch from San Francisco says that Chris. Buckley's exposure of fraud in the matter of Chinese immigration, which was expected to revive the anti-Chinese spirit in California in its old-time violence, has fallen flat. There is an attempt to account for this through the illness of Buckley's secretary, to whom the management of the revelation was given, but this is a very lame explanation. If popular interest in the Chinese question was what it was three or four years ago something more serious than the illness of a Buckley under-strapper would be required to check public rage over charges as serious as those put forth. The fact is that the Chinese question as a political issue is about worked out in California. The people are thoroughly tired of it. Politicians and newspapers harp on it as a matter of habit, but there is no longer any response on the part of the people, and even such exposures as those made by Buckley fail to create a ripple of popular excitement.

The anti-Chinese agitation was sadly overdone in California. A good cause was outraged by the extravagance of political leaders and the competition of political parties. The people came in course of time to see that they had been led into folly, that their attitude was an absurd exaggeration. An unnatural tension maintained for some years, has resulted as always follows, in apathy. The people now care or appear to care nothing for the issue which only a little while back was the burden of all political discussion and the impulse of every political movement. So serious is the neglect of this really great question that there is danger that the public welfare will not be properly guarded. The Pacific coast cannot afford to be indifferent to this question.

The Chinese residents of San Francisco are the victims of a petty persecution, which originated in the hight of the anti-Chinese rage and which has been kept up partly through habit and partly through the operation of discriminating laws, enacted during the "mad period." The recent announcement of the superintendent of public instruction, that the children of Chinese are barred by the state constitution from the public schools, is an example of this spirit. This particular instance would not seem so unjust if the Chinese were not taxed to support the schools by the same law which denies to them their advantages. The Chinese residents of San Francisco alone pay $120,000 per year direct school tax, and pay it without protest, and it seems wrong—indeed it is wrong—to bar out their children. In the matter of watering and sweeping the streets the Chinese are again treated unjustly. They pay into the San Francisco city treasury $40,000 per year to this particular fund, and yet they get no benefit from it. The sweeping and watering machines never enter the Chinese quarter unless specially paid by its denizens.

These petty meannesses are recognized as such and are condemned by most people who have knowledge of them in San Francisco, and their effect naturally enough is to make friends for the Chinese. Indeed, from one cause or another, the tide so long set against John Chinaman is now turning in his favor. The failure of Mr. Buckley's sensation is a notable matter as illustrating the change in public sentiment.

The war against Chinese labor was never placed fairly on its proper ground in California. Scores of exaggerated and fancied grievances of a striking sort were made much of, but never, excepting incidentally, was the most serious objection put forth. There was never a time in California when the Chinaman crowded the white laborer to the wall. There was never a time when there were men enough to do the work needed to be done in California, and wages there were never down to a point comparable with the wage basis of the eastern states. And yet, labor was in distress in California through Chinese competition. It was not driven from the field, but it was made ashamed. The result was quite as serious one way as the other. Any kind of labor is degraded in the public estimation by being done by an inferior or enslaved race. The effect of Chinese coolie competition in California was precisely the effect of negro slave competition in the south. Labor was put in contempt and thousands of young men became hoodlums, and thousands of young women became public prostitutes through its degradation. Here is the present objection to the coming of the Chinese. The coolie and the white man will not dig side by side, the coolie and the white girl will not serve in the same household on equal terms. These scruples may be called foolish or even vicious but they are factors in the situation as much to be considered as if they were ever so well based. If all other objections that have been urged against the Chinese were swept away, if there were no economic or social reasons why they should not come among us, still we believe this chief objection we have named serious enough to warrant the existing restriction law. A nation whose corner stone is equality must suffer no assault upon the dignity of labor.

This journal has never considered the Chinese question a question of politics, though it has mixed a great deal in political platforms and debates. Both parties on this coast have claimed superior zeal in opposing Chinese immigration. Both, indeed, have done all they could in the face of eastern opposition, based on sentimentalism. But the democrats have cried out the loudest and have succeeded in creating the false impression that their party is in a national sense the anti-Chinese party. The democrats are now in power, and what are they doing to demonstrate their anti-Chinese character? Something worse than nothing. It should not be forgotten that the restriction act was a republican measure put in force by a republican president. Let us see if a democratic administration will do as much, or even if it will maintain what has already been done.

A TALE OF A COW.

The St. Helens Columbian is the vehicle of a discussion which is shaking the social and religious foundations of Beaver valley, W. T. Among the residents of that fair valley (which offers the usual inducements to immigration) is a highly-respected gentleman who graces the commonplace character of farmer with the higher duties of the Christian ministry. The teachings of this excellent man have been put forth according to the primitive Bible rule without money and without price, and being accepted on these generous terms have wrought some local good. But in an evil hour one A. H. Coe, designing no doubt to harm the Christian cause through its human instrument, charged publicly through the Columbian that the agricultural reverend had wantonly maimed a cow by amputating her tail, and to the charge of cruelty added another of sacrilege by specifying that the deed was done on the Lord's day. A champion of the preacher and his cause arose in the person of Mr. G. G. Goodfellow, also of Beaver valley and the contest wages with much bitterness. Mr. Goodfellow, in a recent letter, declared that "the preacher did not cut the cow's tail off, but he did split her tail to cure her of the hollow horn." He adds that this necessary and quite proper, though not exactly ministerial operation, was performed, not on Sunday, but on Saturday, thus entirely clearing up the charge of immorality. Of course an act of this kind committed on Saturday is very different in a moral aspect from a similar act committed on Sunday; unless perhaps it can be construed as an "act of necessity or mercy" and so authorized by holy writ. Still, the cow is not expressly named in the injunction of the Savior respecting a matter of this kind. It is not well to wander too far from the exact word, and because we are authorized to help asses out of pits on the Lord's day, we should not in conceit of human wisdom take this as license to cut off or even split the tails of cows on that day. There is no reason other than that afforded by weak, speculative analogy, to assume that the Savior meant to include the hollow-horn as a subject of special Sunday license. There is always danger in wandering, and it was with a sense of relief that we read Mr. Goodfellow's decisive statement that the act was done on Saturday. Not content, however, with an explanation which was complete, Mr. Goodfellow closed his letter with a withering reference to Mr. Coe as a "spider-legged dude."

It was, perhaps, this last unkind cut that brought Mr. Coe again to the front in the Columbian of last week. He repeats the original charge, and offers the cow and so much of her tail as is left in evidence. This would be a clincher indeed but for the legal inadmissibility of mutilated documents as evidence. Mr. Coe also reiterates the specification as to the date of execution, declaring positively that the deed was done on Sunday, and offering to prove it by three citizens of Beaver valley. We pass over a detail of Mr. Coe's letter concerning Mr. Goodfellow's qualifications and methods as a masher as unworthy of a serious discussion. Here the matter rests for the present. A hint of why this interesting case is fought out in words through a newspaper, and not with fists in the good old-fashioned way, is suggested by the charge of each that the other is the biggest liar in Beaver valley.

A VICTIM OF INGRATITUDE.

Mr. Meade of Copiah county, Mississippi, who has been dismissed from office by President Cleveland, rightly considers himself a deeply injured man. Nay, he regards the treatment he has received as more than a personal affront; it is an insult to the Meades all over the south, through whose courageous action with shotguns and skill in the finer mysteries of ballot-boxing, the 153 electoral votes of the solid south were plumped for Mr. Cleveland. To express his indignant sense of the injury he has received for doing his duty as a shot-gun democrat and making Mr. Cleveland's election possible, Mr. Meade has written a letter (indirectly) to the president, which is published in the New Orleans Times-Democrat. In vindication of the conduct of himself and his fellow democrats of the south, Mr. Meade submits facts to a candid world.

He says he helped to free the south "from the most dangerous organizations that ever lorded it over a free people," and that he has "no apology to offer Mr. Cleveland or his mugwump friends for anything he did in that campaign." Moreover, "the action of the president does not meet the approval of the people of the south, the only persons who have a right to be heard in the matter;" but he bitterly remarks that the president seems to have "cared little what the southern people thought of it, since it meets the approval of his northern republican allies."

It is clear that Mr. Meade is a victim of marble-hearted ingratitude. But for him and others like him Mr. Cleveland would still be among the obscurest men of the country. The votes of six to ten states were carried for him by the same violent and bloody methods for which Mr. Meade is censured before the country, just to please the mugwumps. As the fruit of the work of Mr. Meade and his associates all over the south Mr. Cleveland holds the presidency. Would not true repentance lead him further than the dismissal of Meade? Would it not require him to resign? Can one be pardoned and retain the offence? Really it doesn't look well in him to disapprove and punish the foul murders committed or approved by the Meades, since he is in possession of the effects for which they did the murders, and eagerly holds on to them.

There is a general tone of irritability and unhappiness in the circles of bogus journalism. It is much more prevalent than hitherto. By this token it may be guessed that hard times in the circles of bogus journalism are getting even harder than heretofore. The brethren of the "guild" are becoming testy, captious, waspish. Well, bunko games, bogus journalism, and all those things flourish most in periods of inflation and speculation, and least when money is scarce and hard to get.

The esteemed Standard prints a statement to the effect that there isn't much of anything in Monday's OREGONIAN. Small as the amount of matter may be in that paper, about one-fifth of it constitutes the whole readable contents of Monday's afternoon Standard.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST.

WASHINGTON.

Mr. T. J. Razor, of upper Wishkah river, lost his house and logging outfit by fire a few days ago.

The farmers of Whatcom, Skagit and Island counties have secured their hay crop without loss or damage by rain.

Clallam county loggers are doing a good business this year. Every week one or two booms of sawlogs are towed away from there.

There are sixty men employed on the Little Skookum railroad at Puget Sound. Two miles of the track have been cleared, and one mile of grading has been finished.

At the coroner's inquest held at Tacoma Saturday last on the body of James McMillan, a verdict was rendered charging Wm. M. White with the murder, and Thomas White as being an accessory.

Farmers in Clallam county are cutting heavy crops of hay this year. Grain crops also are generally good. Some of the potato crops are affected slightly with rot and drouth, and early digging is made necessary.

Quite extensive fires have been raging in the woods north of Montesano. As yet it has damaged nothing more than the timber, but fears are entertained that it may get into Goodell's log road, or destroy some of the residences in the edge of the timber.

There are now six vessels loading lumber at Port Discovery, as follows: Ship Enos Soule, for South America; schooner Falcon, for San Diego; schooner Joseph Russ, for San Pedro; schooner Maggie E. Russ, for San Francisco; schooner Joshua Grindle, for San Francisco; schooner Vesta, for San Francisco.

Whatcom Reville: San Juan county is noted for her agricultural advantages, vast lime ledges and sheep ranges. Hogs and fowls do well and gardens flourish. The islands are fast settling up with industrious people, school houses and churches are becoming more numerous, and many beautiful homes now dot a hundred islands in the San Juan group.

Harmon Cassiday, an employe of Littlejohn & Kirkendall, met with quite a severe accident on Thursday morning. While on his way, with George Rynearson, to South bay, Cassiday had occasion to load a shotgun, and while screwing on a cartridge an explosion took place, scattering the contents in every direction. The first finger of Cassiday's left hand was shattered into shreds, and amputation was necessary.

Thursday evening the steamer Bob Irving stopped at Johnson's Point, below Olympia, to wood up. The float on which the wood is piled is about fifteen or twenty feet from the shore. Two Chinamen employed in the camp started out to the float in a dugout to take the steamer's lines, when the swell upset their frail craft. One of them clung to the boat and was rescued, the other went to the bottom like a rock, and was drowned in about eight feet of water.

Port Townsend Argus: Nine canoes filled with Indians of the Uhlulet band, Barclay sound, arrived here yesterday from New Westminster. Twenty-one more canoes are expected to-day. These Indians are bound to the hop fields, and from present appearances there will be no lack of hop pickers this season. There are between 200 and 300 Indians of all ages in this party. The whole force of the custom house turned out to visit them on their arrival, but as they had no dutiable goods in their canoes the officers turned their attention to the purchase of gay colored mats and other curios which the natives have for sale.

The Northwest Enterprise says: The fishing industry is destined ere long, we believe, to be of considerable importance to Skagit county. The herring fisheries recently established on the west side of Guemes island, by Thomas Bros. & McLane and Garrison & Leonard, are prospering finely. Two large smoke-houses have been erected on the grounds, and an extensive fish weir, jointly owned by these two firms, has been constructed in front of the property of Amos Johnson. Herring are very plentiful in this locality, and as high as thirty barrels were captured at one haul recently. Some halibut have also been caught and smoked, but the herring business is the principal industry. While our herrings are not equal to those caught on the coast of Newfoundland and in the bay of Fundy, it is believed that when properly cured they will be fully as palatable, and find ready sale on this coast and in eastern markets. The smaller and inferior fish are utilized by Mr. Hammond in the manufacture of oil and guano on his place on Cypress island, opposite the fishery.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

Willie, eldest son of Dr. Thorufer, was drowned while bathing in the North Arm, near New Westminster, on Monday. The boy was nearly 13 years of age.

There is great excitement in the mountains owing to the discovery of quartz gold in large quantities at the Big Bend of the Columbia, a day's tramp from the Second Crossing. The quartz has already run into tens of thousands of dollars to the ton, and prospectors are making a rush to the new gold fields. Five men discovered it.

Mr. Galbraith informs the Victoria Times that those engaged in mining in the Kootenai country are moving along as usual. The miners on Findlay creek are waiting for the water to fall in order to press operations. There are some forty men at work on that stream, and placers pay from $2 to $10 per day to the man.

While workmen were blasting on Humboldt street, in Victoria, the other day a blast let off about noon destroyed a small portion of James Bay bridge, and one large piece of rock went through the roof of a house back of Seeley's hotel, where a lady was engaged cooking dinner, destroying the noon meal and narrowly missing the lady, who was near the stove at the time.

The exploring party under Mr. Priest, says the Nanaimo Free Press, discovered a large quantity of excellent farming land between Nanoose, the Qualicum and Cameron lake. The country between Nanoose and Cameron lake offers a splendid route for a road at a very nominal cost, and would open up tracts of really superior land, on which could be placed a large number of settlers. On the Little Qualicum and the forks of Englishman's river excellent land was discovered. No difficulty would be experienced in constructing a road to Cameron lake and around it, but in getting from the lake to the Alberni plateau there would be a mile or two down the mountain that would be very expensive.

IDAHO.

Boise City has its first lodge of Knights of Pythias.

The new capitol building at Boise City will cost $80,000.

A wagon road has just been completed from Rathdrum to the heart of the Cœur d'Alene region.

A brother of Peter Brazil, one of the victims of the Brazil-Flynn tragedy near Lewiston last spring, has arrived in the country from Ireland, to look after the estate of the deceased.

On the 3d of July a 10-year-old son of B. Glatheart was thrown from his horse at Salubria, sustaining severe injuries from which it was expected the little fellow would die.

From the report of the United States assayer at Boise City we learn that the amount of bullion purchased during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1884, was $171,719 20, while the amount purchased during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1885, was $197,655 57, an increase of $25,936 37, or about 15 per cent. The receipts for the present month, the first of the current fiscal year, are indicating a business largely in excess of that of the year just closed.

Atlanta News: The Monarch mill started up on the 7th inst., and is now steadily grinding away. There are about 500 tons of ore in the bins, and more daily arriving. The mill is one of 15 stamps, and is capable of reducing the ore to about on an average of 90 per cent, and the ore being of a good grade, a most handsome season's run is expected. The Last Chance mill is being worked upon with a view to starting up about the first of August. The Buffalo mill dropped its stamps on the 2d of the month, and, as the mill had undergone a thorough course of repairs, a steady and continuous run will doubtless be the result. There is plenty of good ore in the bins, and plenty more being extracted and transported to the mill. The mill is backed by a good little mine, and run under a careful and economical management, therefore a continued production of bullion is pretty certain.

MONTANA.

Butte is to have a swimming school.

A new minister in Helena, formerly a missionary, preaches to the Chinese in their own language.

Reynolds, Montana's champion statist, is proving himself superior to any our yet encountered in the east.

Six hundred deposits of precious metal were made in the Helena assay office for the first six months of the present year.

Last Monday Frank Kannis, a well-known Bear gulch (Gallatin county) miner, had a quarrel with a man named James Stephens, resulting in Kannis being shot and severely wounded in the groin by Stephens. His injuries were of such a serious character that he died within a few hours. No particulars of the tragedy or its cause have been received. Stephens is under arrest.

Last Thursday night a fire broke out at Benton in the vicinity of the Odd Fellows' temple, occupied by the River Press, and resulted in the burning of that building and Roosevelt's furniture store and warehouse. The total loss was $20,000 and the insurance about $13,000. Nearly all the material of the River Press was saved. The paper's loss is fully covered by insurance.

OREGON.

There is considerable demand for harvest hands in Union county, says the Sentinel.

On the first of the month Mr. Koontz, living on upper Burnt river, left home with his gun, dogs and horse for a deer hunt in the mountains. Not returning home on the third, and his horse having returned home the night before, a party went in search for him. His body was found, a bullet having fractured his thigh and ranged upwards. It is supposed that he suffered great agony, as he crawled some distance before death relieved him.

James Gent was drowned in the river in Indian valley on Sunday last. He and several others were fishing in the river with a seine, and while three of them were wading down the river in the water up to their arm-pits, carrying the seine, they stepped off into a deep hole. All three sunk, but two rose and swam ashore, Gent not coming up. They pulled up the seine, which was fast on something, when it suddenly gave way and the drowned man's hat floated to the surface. It is supposed he had been entangled in the seine till that time. After much search he was found next day on the bottom, only twenty or thirty feet from where he went down.

"Jefferson Davis has been heard from again in a letter opposing the use, in schools, of histories which teach the idea that the federal government is sovereign in this country. Mr. Davis should crawl back into the dark corner of his cave and sit down on a damp rock." So says the Philadelphia Press. Jeff., we may add, pins his faith to "Jeffersonian democracy," and Jeffersonian democracy, though some people may still talk about it, is as dead in fact as the crusades. It was shot to pieces from Sumter to Appomattox.

He Means Business.

It has now been definitely stated that F B Freiman's new coffee house and restaurant, Oak st. between Front and First, have out grown the old style of doing business and especially the coffee business. I therefore take pleasure in notifying my friends and the public that I have turned my elegant coffee house into a first class restaurant and have run it with perfect success and this is the reason why I serve the best meal of any restaurant in the city of Portland and I defy any one to deny it. I have also secured the services of Mr H Seager of San Francisco, (at a princely salary) who is one of the best professional cooks and bakers of the Pacific coast, and who has no equal in Portland for tasty cooking and fine baking. Here is a pointer. The proof of the pudding is in the eating thereof. I therefore want you to come and taste my fine French bread and [illegible] pies—all made in my establishment. It is enough to say that, if you come once you will come again. Remember that I am dead in earnest, mean business and no deception. The best speaks for itself. I employ 10 men, and have the best custom in Portland. Satisfaction guaranteed or money not received. I hereby solicit your trade. Yours truly H FREIMAN

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

FLOURING MILL IMPROVEMENTS.—It is only a little over two years since the first mill for making flour by the use of rollers was completed in this state. Now every large mill in the state has been fitted with rollers, or is about to undergo the necessary change, and as a consequence millwrights are busy, and mill furnishers are driving an active trade throughout the northwest. O. C. Gove has thirty men at work making additions and improvements to the Salem flouring mills, the work to be finished by September 20. He is also constructing a forty-barrel roller mill at La Camas, which will be completed in a month. Gunning & Chapman of Sprague, W. T., have contracted with Mr Gove for a forty-barrel mill, to be built on Crab creek, and to be completed September 20. The mill will be combined roll and stone. Isom, Landing & Co.'s mill at Albany, started up last week, and is working satisfactorily. The Capitol mills, at Salem, will put in twenty pairs Ellis rolls, with other new machinery. Polk county parties are negotiating for the erection of a small roller mill at Dixie. The Imperial mill at Oregon City is receiving new improvements, and the O. M. Co.'s Turner mill is being overhauled. The Silverton mill has machinery en route, and carpenters are at work on the new building. In addition to the work herein noted other mills are overhauling or refitting.

THE LAVIN MATTER.—Mrs. Bridget Lavin publishes a card in THE OREGONIAN this morning for the purpose of refuting some slanders which have been started by irresponsible persons concerning her financial agent, V. B. DeLashmutt. In this connection a plain statement of facts may be given. Mrs. Lavin was in the insane asylum in Montana, and wanted to get out. To accomplish this, Mr DeLashmutt was appointed her guardian, giving bonds in the sum of $25,000. He then obtained an order to take her from the Montana asylum to the Oregon asylum as the only means of securing her release. Arriving in Portland she began to make unreasonable demands upon her agent for money to prosecute the people who had put her in the asylum in Montana. This Mr. DeLashmutt would not consent to, and finally told her that he was the legal guardian of her property. She did not like this, and in order to settle the matter before the court and be relieved of his guardianship and his bonds, he caused the charge of insanity to be preferred against her. The result gave Mrs. Lavin a legal right to dispose of her property in any way she may see fit. Yesterday she had a full settlement with Mr. DeLashmutt, and now thoroughly understanding his action, she left her money in his hands and still retains him as her financial agent.

A BRAVE MAN GOES FISHING.—A crowd of the friends of District Attorney Gearin gathered on First street yesterday to bid him farewell as he started for Cœur d'Alene to spend a month's vacation in company with Dr. Harry Lane and Dr Bevan. Gearin was always a brave fellow, but how he summoned courage to go out for a month with two doctors is a wonder. Just think of his sad fate if he should be taken sick. He would be dead and buried, and resurrected and dissected, and his bones strung on wires and rattling like castanets in the Cœur d'Alene zephyrs before his friends could do anything toward rescuing him. The party took no antidote for snake bites, as it has been observed that the antidote causes great flocks of snakes to hover around camp and bite everybody all day long. The doctors took a lot of medicine warrants to kill the snakes before they can bite, and if this fails, Gearin has a flask of whisky, purchased at a certain cheap saloon, which will not only kill snakes at sight but will kill Satan himself if he gets a smell of it. This liquid is intended to preserve the fish the party will catch, or rather they think they will catch. Well, good luck to you, boys.

THINKS YOUNG MCLAREN IS IN THE CITY.—Mrs. S. A. Burrows of this city feels certain that the boy missing from Tacoma, Frank McLaren, is in this city, and only a few days ago was employed as an errand boy. She bases her opinion upon the mother's description of the lad, published in this morning's OREGONIAN. The boy came to her store at the corner of Third and Yamhill streets, and asked her to give him employment as an errand boy. He told her he was from Tacoma. She said she had no need of a boy, but his intelligent answers and his tidy appearance attracted her attention, and his honest, open manner awakened her interest in him and she directed him to go to the Y M C A. rooms, telling him they would try to get him some situation and charge him nothing for it. Last Tuesday the boy came to Mrs. Burrows' store to buy some postage stamps. He had a package in his hand as if to deliver for some one. She asked him if he had a place and he said he had, that he went to the Y. M. C. A. rooms and they got him a position. The boy appeared to be very grateful for what she had done for him.

STILL AFTER THE DIAMOND BADGE.—Mr McNaught is not satisfied with his performance at the shooting for the diamond badge on Sunday, and is willing to go another $100 on it, and has accordingly challenged Curry for another trial, which it is expected will come off Saturday next. Much surprise has been expressed at the poor shooting done by these champions, and there are several shooters here who think they could do better. It seems, however, that the trap was set so as to throw the pigeons in a very vicious manner. The trap is generally set to throw the pigeons about thirty yards, but this sent them flying for sixty yards. This will probably account for the poor record made by Messrs. McNaught and Curry. As a certain party said "The trap was set to make them work; we don't want these champions to have a soft snap on the business." However, it was as fair for one as the other, but they will probably have it set a little less stiff next time. But one thing is certain, should the champions not make a better showing on Saturday, some one will have a try at the winner, and the badge may change hands more than once.

BASEBALL TOURNAMENT.—Considering the interest manifested in baseball matters, and the fact of several clubs being about equally matched, why not have a baseball tournament at Portland, or some place centrally located, about September 1st? Portland has two nines which, so far, have "knocked out" all opponents with but one exception. Walla Walla has a strong club. Weston cannot easily be vanquished. Ashland claims a nine willing to cross bats with the Portlands. Seattle, though playing in hard luck, may yet take the lead. Victoria has already won a victory over the crack nine of Portland. Dallas and Oregon City can turn out a fine body of men and other towns could doubtless put their able players in training to surprising advantage. If a prize could be offered for the senior and junior championship of the northwest, there is but little doubt that each of the clubs named could find ready financial backing by their local friends and admirers, each town paying the expenses of its own club. What say the boys?

BE SURE YOU'RE RIGHT.—Parties getting up petitions for the improvement of streets must bear in mind that it is necessary to have the petition state just what sort of improvement is wanted. It requires the names of half the property owners to a petition to secure the improvement of a street, and then only such improvements can be made as are asked for in the petition. A case in point is the proposed improvement of Second and South Second streets, which, after hanging fire in the council for about five months, was passed, and it is now found that no mention of sidewalks or crosswalks was made in the petition, or the ordinance, which is of course patterned from the petition. And now the whole business has to be gone over again from the beginning. Contractors, who are generally the movers in such matters, should take care to have their petitions properly prepared before they are circulated.

MCLUIS GETS ONE YEAR.—Yesterday in the U. S circuit court H W McLuis, alias Morrison, pleaded guilty to the charge of perjury and was sentenced by Judge Deady to one year's imprisonment in the penitentiary. McLuis, in order to clear himself and a companion of horse stealing, swore to some forged bills of sale. A jury failed to convict him but the perjury was subsequently discovered. He has now been in jail eight months, and is either sick or has been feigning it in the hope of getting a lighter sentence thereby. He came into court on crutches, apparently as weak as a man could well be. His face, however, showed he was not near death. When arraigned he pleaded guilty and implored the mercy of the court. The judge remarked that he did not know as the law for sick men was any more lenient than for well folks, and thought he would probably be as well in prison as out.

FORTUNATE ESCAPE.—The little daughter of Otto H Wangelin, editor of the Boulder, Colorado, Herald, who is visiting here with the Colorado Press association, had a very narrow escape yesterday. When the party returned from driving around the city, Mr Wangelin was getting out of the hack with his daughter, about 3 years old, in his arms, when the horses were started by a driver in the carriage behind speaking to his team, and Mr Wangelin and the child were caught between the open door of the hack and a hitching post. The pressure was so great that he felt her breast bone sink in and felt certain she was going to be killed, but fortunately by a desperate effort he succeeded in pulling her out of the hack with no other injury than a slight abrasion on the back of his hand.

BARBEAU, THE BURGLAR.—Maurice Barbeau, the burglar arrested by policeman Putnam, was arraigned in the police court yesterday. He waived examination on two charges of burglary and was held to answer before the grand jury. His bail was fixed at $800 on each charge, in default of which he was sent to the county jail. He had on a pair of pantaloons which P Kirske identified as having been stolen from him. There have been several miserable, abortive attempts at burglary lately which resemble the efforts in that line, several months since, that resulted in the burglar being raced around town and shot at, and fired out of windows, and slapped in the face with slippers and, withal, not making grub. This fellow Barbeau is probably the man who has done all this snide burgling. He ought to be sent to an asylum for imbeciles. He makes people tired with his idiotic attempts at trying to get into their houses.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—A shocking accident occurred to Carter T. Davidson, a brother of L. G. Davidson of this city, about four weeks ago. He went from Williams, Josephine county, to the home of another brother near Bandon, Coos county. On the third day after his arrival, while loading some shells, preparatory to going on a hunting expedition, one of them exploded, mangling his left hand fearfully, breaking the index finger, and injuring the middle finger so that it had to be amputated. He did not get home until three weeks after the accident, and not being in good health at any time, the nervous shock to his system has been such that he is in a critical condition, from which it will take him some time to recover.

FOUND HIS STOLEN TOOLS.—Charles Pugh, a carpenter employed on Mulkey's building, found his tool chest broken open yesterday morning and a number of tools gone. He afterward found them at Elman's, 253 Front street. Elman refused to give them up, saying he had bought them of a Chinaman for $1 50. Pugh swore out a warrant in Bushwiler's court, recovered his tools, and Elman is to answer a charge of having stolen goods in his possession. He has asked time to look up the Chinaman, and his trial may be postponed. It is set for to-day. Pugh says he would have paid the dealer the $1 50 had the tools been sold by a white man, but rightly thinks the dealer should not buy carpenter's tools of Chinamen

BENEFIT TO HARRY GATES.—The principals, and a majority of the chorus of the late Casino company, have united in tendering a complimentary benefit to Harry Gates at the Casino next week. Mr Gates has thankfully accepted the generous offer of his associates and in response to a general request will probably produce Auber's beautiful, romantic opera of "Fra Diavolo" with an excellent cast, including Miss Hattie Moore as Zerlina. As the part of the dashing brigand is one of Mr Gates' best efforts, and Zerlina, a character in which Miss Moore has won golden opinions, we may confidently expect a fine performance of this, the most beautiful of all the standard operas

DAMAGE SUIT SETTLED.—In the United States circuit court yesterday morning the case of Wm. S. Pound against the Pacific Coast Steamship Company was dismissed, a judgment of nonsuit having been granted on motion of the plaintiff. This was an action brought by Mr. Pound to collect $20,000 damages from the steamship company for injuries sustained during the accident to the Queen of the Pacific, at Clatsop spit nearly two years ago. Mr Pound was in a lifeboat and some of the ship's employes dropped or let a woman down on him, causing an injury to his spine. A compromise was recently effected between the parties, but the amount of damages paid Mr. Pound is not stated

THE MOUNTAIN QUEEN.—The O. R. & N. Co.'s route between Portland and Astoria has been strengthened by the substitution of the Mountain Queen for the S G Reed. The Reed will be thoroughly overhauled and her machinery improved before she is put back on the line. The Queen can make faster time than the Reed, and will make her run at 6 A. M. from Portland on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, returning from Astoria at 6 A. M. Monday, Wednesday and Friday. With the R. R. Thompson, the Wide West and the Mountain Queen running regularly on the route the company should command a splendid patronage.

THE YANK LEDGE.—The parties who have undertaken to investigate the Yank ledge on Rogue river have been pushing matters energetically. A tunnel has been run into the ledge on both sides of the river and two shifts of eight men have been at work day and night for some time. The ledge is 250 feet in width and the shafts are being run diagonally across it. The quality of the ore is considered satisfactory, and while there is no occasion for any excitement at present, there is a prospect that the Yank ledge may prove the great bonanza mine of Oregon and excel the Comstock in its best days.

GROUSE HUNTING.—A large number of our sportsmen went out after grouse on Sunday. Sam Stevens and Dumphrey went up to McMinnville and captured thirty-seven. E W Moore and W Muir also went up to Yamhill and brought in thirty, while Jack Matthews and T C Powell bagged twenty-four on Dairy creek. Some young men fired off a sack of cartridges each and only got a bird or two. They consider themselves good shots too. But they need to practice

DID NOT COME OFF.—The much talked of foot race between J W Geoghegan of this city and W Martin of Yamhill, which was to have taken place at McMinnville on Sunday did not come off. Geoghegan went up accompanied by his backer, ready to take all bets offered, but when the Yamhill boys saw him strip they got scared and left the grounds. They remembered Kittleman and were not going to be taken in and done out of their coin

FIRE THIS MORNING.—An alarm of fire, shortly after 1 o'clock this morning, was caused by the burning of John Traney's barn, at the corner of Fifteenth and Jefferson streets. It was a two-story structure and valued at $400. Four horses were in their stalls, but were got out in safety. Considerable harness, feed, etc., were burned, bringing the loss up to $800, insured for $300.

THE CITY TO PAY $2000.—Judge Deady yesterday decided the case of Robert Bragg vs. the city, for damages for infringement upon a patent electrical unhitching apparatus in use by the fire department, in favor of the plaintiff and awarded him $2000 damages and his costs, as well as an injunction against the further use of the Bragg patents by the fire department here

AT THE SEASIDE HOUSE.—Following is a list of arrivals at the Seaside house since the last report. Chas. S Wright, wife and son, and Mrs. Ella Anderson and son of Astoria, R. B Miller, John J Byrne, R. Jacobs, Alfred Jacobs, Josie Jacobs, Judge Raleigh Stott, Judge C B Bellinger, D P Thompson, Frank T Dodge, John P Watson and John M Gearin of Portland

STARS VS PORTLANDS.—The Portlands and the Stars may play next Sunday. The latter are ready to play and if the Portlands are in fix the baseball public will have a chance to see the clubs come together

Novelties in Stationery—The very latest things in stationery are initial paper, the bamboo initial and illuminated paper, of handsome design, with plain envelope. Ayer, as usual, is ahead of other dealers in getting these novelties to Portland. Wax seals are still the fashion

ENTERPRISE

PORTLAND, July 20

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

In to-day's issue of your paper I find this

> If the rich men of Portland would put into manufacturing enterprises one fifth of what they put into the Transcontinental gamble, there would be no talk of hard times here now

The thought in every sentence has a perspective. The chief thought in the above clipping is both retrospective and perspective. In less than ten hours after your thoughts was placed upon the bridge of print, a young man, a trustworthy man, a skilled mechanic, walked into the rooms of the state board of immigration, and said, replying to the idea in the clipping: "Not the rich, but if the men who, in this city and state, use leather, the commonest as well as the very finest and most delicate kinds, will agree to buy all the leather that I and my three brothers—all of us first-class, practical tanners—can make, we will agree to establish a tannery here in Portland, and on a scale sufficiently large to be accounted worthy a large city."

Three of these gentlemen are making choice brands of leather for the "Frisco" market. They want to join the fourth brother here in Oregon. They do not ask a picayune in the way of subsidy, bonus, royalty and the like. The establishment they contemplate would not only give employment to a number of those who have come here to stay, and must needs find something to do, but put money into circulation, and increase the wealth of the city. All they ask is a guarantee that users of leather, fine or common, will, all things else being equal, give preference to the goods made at the Portland tannery. These gentlemen will accept the same conditions from any other large town in the state.

The party left Denver last Wednesday. They have been the recipients of one or two little ovations along the way, notably at Boise city where they were the guests of the town and remained an entire day, being taken to and from the train by coaches specially ordered for them. Governor Moody met them at The Dalles and escorted them to this city, bestowing every courtesy and attention in his power.

On reaching this city Mr Bryan, president of the association, and Mr. Smith, vice president, were waited on by Mr. Donald Macleay, president of the board of trade, H. W. Scott, editor of THE OREGONIAN, Charles H. Dodd, president of the state board of immigration, and others. The visiting quill-drivers were tendered a cordial greeting.

About 2 P M. the excursionists stepped into carriages placed at their disposal, and were driven about the city for two hours. The trip comprised a drive through the business portion of the town, thence to the end of Montgomery street, where a stop of ten or fifteen minutes enabled those who desired to get out and ascend Robinson's hill, from which a grand view of Mounts Hood, St. Helens and Adams was obtained. Then to the carriages again, and the party were bowled along the graded streets and out to and through City park, where another style and change of scenery was presented. From the park the procession turned off to the north, riding past the beautiful residences and grounds of Messrs. Lewis, Flanders and others, on through Slabtown and back again on Fifteenth street to Washington, and thence to their hotels. The drive was productive of unqualified expressions of pleasure from all. It was a treat they had not expected, and one of the excursionists remarked, after drinking in the view from Robinson's hill: "This city is ahead of Denver, and if I ever move, here I shall come." Any one acquainted with Denver and its people will know this is the highest compliment that could be paid to our city. The presence of fruit trees in nearly every yard, laden with their toothsome products, was a feature especially admired

The party leave this morning for Astoria and Ilwaco by the R. R. Thompson and will return to-morrow night. Beyond this their programme is not definitely laid out. Some of the party wish to go up the Willamette valley and many more wish to make the Puget sound trip to Victoria. This latter will depend on how favorable rates of transportation can be obtained.

NOTES.

Mrs. Wm. Stapleton, wife of the editor of the Denver News, and herself the society editress, is the well known "Patience Thornton," a magazine writer of marked ability

Mr. Chas. P. Bryan of the Idaho Springs Gazette, the president of the association, is a rising politician, a member of the state legislature for two terms and a prominent man in the republican party

W. E. Pabor, secretary and director of the trip, is known as the "farmer poet" of Colorado, and has now a book of poems in press. He was formerly editor of the Colorado Farmer and the author of two carefully prepared books, "Colorado as an Agricultural State," and "Fruit Culture in Colorado."

Wolfe Londoner, who represents the Queen Bee, a society journal, is only a newspaper man by habit, he having been a reporter when a young man, and now that he has a well established wholesale grocery business can afford to return to the profession as a sort of luxury not permitted to ordinary mortals.

Major John Cheely, one of the Colorado editors, says that Wolfe Londoner the refreshment man, is the greatest afternoon liar on the eastern slope of the Rocky mountains. In his speech at Boise City the other evening he turned Cheely over so beautifully he has not eaten anything or slept but very little since.

Mr Wm G Smith, editor and proprietor of the Golden Globe, and vice president of the association, although but 28 years old, has held many positions of public trust in the state. He was Governor Pitkin's private secretary during his term of office and is now, secretary of the State Industrial school as well as county school superintendent.

Mr Londoner was the victim of a practical joke at The Dalles yesterday morning. Just after breakfast, some one having unguardedly left their night garment in view after dressing, it was quickly drawn over Mr. Londoner's head and down to his feet. While thus arrayed Governor Moody came into the car with two ladies to meet the party. Mr. Londoner has not yet ceased blushing

The Columbia River Paper Company is building a new blacksmith shop on Columbia street.

Miss Emma Millard will be wedded to Alex McKay at Salem, Oregon, on Wednesday, July 22.

O. E. McMaster gives business status for the week as good. Farmers are buying, though not shipping much. Produce has not changed in price, and the outlook for the future at La Camas is good indeed.

The Traveler is kept busy nowadays. Captain Buchanan reports business good for this season of the year. Verily a genial captain is a great help to a boat's lading.

The La Camas Colony has donated to the town Riverview cemetery, a beautiful tract of ground lying on the plateau back of the old orchard, and it will be laid off in lots 12x20 feet.

Mrs. George McRuckel, who was buried in Riverview cemetery last Sunday, was the first woman to live on La Camas town site. She died after an illness of two weeks, leaving her husband and two small children.

OREGON FLYERS

A Fine Lot of Racing Stock at the Gentleman's Driving Park down the River where Citizens Speed their Horses

Everybody knows that there is a gentleman's driving park a short distance below the city, but very few except those who have fast horses and who go down there regularly to spin them around the track, have any idea to what extent the place is patronized or how much sport is down there. Every evening from twenty to forty owners of fast stock meet out at the park just as the sun is setting behind the hills and such speeding around the track and racing as there goes on is a caution to horseflesh. C. P Bacon, George Beck, Captain Sorenson, Sherlock, G. Good, John Lewis, S G. Reed, Van DeLashmutt, William Wadhams, Pat. Smith, James Lotan, Dick Everding, H Y Thompson, George Watkinds, W Jackson, S Heitshu and many more of our best citizens are to be seen there sometimes jogging leisurely around the track then trying a spurt with some friend to see whose horse is the fastest. There are a number of lively goers and some very spirited races take place to the great enjoyment of all concerned

In the stables at the track Lute Lindsay has quite a number of horses in training. Several of them are sired by Hambletonian Mambrino, who occupies a stall there where he can see his children speeded around the track. Among them are Ivan Del, a two-year-old, entered for the state fair, Jane L., owned by William Ladd, who does a mile under 2 40. W. S. Ladd a promising four-year-old owned by S G Reed, and Susie S, owned by Captain Sorenson. A two-year-old filly sired by Milton Medium, and owned by John Green, is a very promising animal. Rayburn, of Corvallis, has a horse there, sired by a thoroughbred brought here by Ben Holladay several years ago. Lew Goddard has a Kisber colt which does a mile in 2 40. C. P Bacon has a five-year-old stallion sired by Eph Maynard. E. Stewart has a three-year-old of the Champion Knox stock. James Lotan has a California-raised horse, and Captain Sorensen has a bay filly by Rockwood. Mt. Vernon, owned by Jenkins, of Canyon City, is also there. He has a record of 2:32, and is of the Champion Knox stock.

FOREST GROVE NOTES.

FOREST GROVE, July 20.

Ex-Governor Geo. L. Woods is in town visiting relatives

Miss Anna Jackson returned from the Sound on Saturday. Miss Lois Burlingame will return to-morrow.

The many native trees growing on the college campus are being trimmed, which gives the grounds additional beauty.

Mrs. J. M. Robb, who was so severely burned by the explosion of a kerosene lamp a few weeks ago, is now able to be about, though she is by no means well of her injuries

W. S Hudson is moving his family to the Indian school farm, near Salem. Mr. H. is the government blacksmith. Mr Walker, shoemaker for the school, will also remove his family soon.

The Nehalem valley was visited last week by a party from the Grove, consisting of Messrs. Dr Bailey, A. Barnes, Haskell Marsh and J M Garrison. They found plenty of trout and blackberries and a few deer. Dr B. killed a fine buck, but didn't bring it to camp

A game of base ball was played here Saturday between the Rustlers of Hillsboro and a nine made up of a portion of the first, second and third nines of the Forest Grove club. The Rustlers presented seven of their strongest players and two of the Stars, Simonton, catcher, and Drummond, pitcher. The home club never having challenged the Stars for a game, objected to Drummond and Simonton. It was finally agreed that the latter should play and the game began. Some very excellent playing was done, the result of the game being a victory for the Rustlers, they being two ahead. It was Simonton who saved them a disastrous defeat.

THE COLORADO EDITORS

N. W. DEF

The scribes of Colorado with their folks, have come to town,
They are men of wide experience, they are men of great renown
You should hear them talk of chloride sulphuret
and carbonate
You should hear their cheery motto— Come, boys
let's irrigate

From Clear creek's mighty canyon, from silver ribbed San Juan
They have come to see our forests, and the rolling
Oregon.
They are tired of mountain scenery—snowy peaks
with them are stale
But they long to see a gallant ship upon the ocean sail

From Cherry creek's mad current, where Denver sits the plain,
They've journeyed many hundred miles to see our land of rain
Of sights and sounds of Chinatown they have enough at home
But they long to hear the [illegible] and see the billows comb

The Colorado tenderfoot at last have come to town
They are men of giant intellect and also of great renown
You should hear them talk of chloride sulphuret
and carbonate
You should hear their cheery byword— Come boys let's irrigate

SEASIDE EXCURSIONISTS

It will be gratifying intelligence to those who contemplate going to the seaside this season to learn that the ticket office for the steamers to Astoria, Clatsop, Ilwaco and any other of the lower Columbia river points, has been established at the office of the U & B T Co, Second and Stark streets. Baggage for all these points can be checked at the residence and there will be no further trouble. This saves a world of annoyance

Among other eminent church dignitaries is the Right Reverend Bishop Gilmour, Cleveland, Ohio, who has publicly added his emphatic endorsement to the wonderful efficacy of St. Jacobs Oil in cases of rheumatism and other painful ailments.

Twenty-five dollars will buy a neat ash bedroom set complete, at G. SHINDLER & Co.'s.

EAST PORTLAND COUNCIL.

The Owls' Application Referred—The Cows Receive Further Consideration—Smallpox Bills Protested—Etc.

The common council of East Portland met in regular session last evening, Mayor Raffety presiding and all members present except McAyel.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

Following is a summary of the business transacted

PETITIONS AND COMMUNICATIONS.

From the board of fire delegates, by H. H Holmes, secretary, submitting the petition of the Owl Hose Company, with the following recommendations: "First, that they be admitted to the department; second, that they be equipped with the hook and ladder truck now in Pioneer engine house until otherwise equipped; third, that they be located in the Third ward at such point as your honorable body may select." Nicolai moved to refer to the committee on fire and water, and Wheeler amended to grant in accordance with the recommendations of the board. The amendment was lost—ayes, Wheeler, Bloomer and Gruner; nays, Laing, Nicolai, Merrick and West. Nicolai's motion was carried by a reverse vote.

From J. T Stewart, delinquent debtor for street improvement on Fifth street, between J and K, asking that he be allowed to settle in accordance with the compromise effected between property owners and the city, referred to the city attorney, to report the facts at next meeting.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

From the committee on ways and means, to whom was referred the matter of the purchase of the franchise of the City View Park railway by the street commissioner, recommending that such franchise be secured by the city at a cost not to exceed $100, as, upon investigation, the committee was of opinion the ordinance repealing the said franchise was null and void. Laing moved to refer to the city attorney. Nicolai was afraid the city would become responsible for all the debts of the concern by purchasing the franchise. Wheeler, of the committee, believed that such was not the case, their report being based on good legal authority, and the city attorney being called upon, confirmed the soundness of the report. The committee, however, were willing for further reference, and Laing's motion prevailed.

From the same, recommending that the city assessor be allowed $400 for making the assessment the present year, adopted.

From the committee on expenses and accounts, recommending the payment of bills presented at last meeting with the following exceptions: Bill of J M. McGrew & Son for $7, for repairing the hose cart of the fourth ward company, the same not being the property of the city. Also the following bills incurred in the alleged smallpox case, the same not having been authorized by the city: Dr Wigg, professional services, $40, Mrs Regina Schmidt, milk, $3 50

On motion of Wheeler, the bill of McGrew was referred to the committee on fire and water, to ascertain and report the facts, and the rest of the report was adopted and warrants ordered drawn in accordance with the recommendations of the committee, West and Gruner voting no,

From the committee on health and police, to whom was referred that portion of the mayor's message concerning police service, recommending that the force be reduced to the marshal and one night policeman on the 1st of August next, adopted, Wheeler and Gruner voting no.

The committee on expenses and accounts, to whom was referred that part of the mayor's message concerning indebtedness, submitted the following report

|---|---|
| Bonds (two issues) | $20,000 |
| Note of Mrs M. F Hill | 1 000 |
| Gutta Percha Co | 805 |
| | $21,805 |
| Cash on hand | 3,000 |
| Actual indebtedness | $18,805 |

The report was received and placed on file.

From the special committee on rules of order, recommending the adoption of the rules of the old council as amended to conform with the new charter, adopted.

REPORTS OF OFFICERS.

From the city attorney, advising the council that all ordinances passed before the adoption of the new city charter, required re-enactment to give them legal force and effect, and recommending special meetings for the purpose, adopted.

From the street commissioner, reporting that Fourth street between I and J needed replanking, that the same street between H and I was also in a bad condition, and that sufficient planks could be saved from the former portion of the street to repair the latter portion. Also, that the drainage on I street was deficient, and recommending the draining of water down Twelfth or Thirteenth street to the K street slough, which could be done at small cost, referred to the committee on streets.

Some Dealers Say
I AM GOING TOO FAR
WITH MY GREAT
Dissolution Sale.
I Don't Believe It, and Will Keep It Up.
GROWLERS
Will Come to the Surface.

You meet them everywhere. I heard from some of them last week, and shall probably hear more from them. Strange to say, however, the "growling" was in the nature of complaints that I am going too far in my efforts to force prices down to a limit that is in keeping with the times. Merchants tell me I am ruining trade for the future by selling Clothing at such small profits this season. Perhaps I am, can't help it, though. People are complaining of such hard times, and demanding the highest possible values for the very lowest figures. You never knew A B STEINBACH to "buck against the tide," did you? Can't afford to do it. I must please the people in order to hold their good will and deserve their patronage. The times demand low prices and I am in a position to make them. Because other clothing houses are loaded with high priced goods and are unable to meet my prices without a sacrifice, is no reason why I should drive the masses away from my doors. Not much. I shall keep up the racket every day this week, and let the "howlers" howl and the "growlers" growl. Don't think of passing my store without dropping in to see what I am doing. You will not be intruding if you stroll through my stock with no intention of buying. I am glad to have you drop in every day—yes every hour if you like—and I don't want you to buy unless you feel like it. The hot weather has come and I am ready to supply your needs at prices that will astonish you. Office Coats, Black and Colored Alpaca Coats, Real and Imitation Seersucker, Black and Fancy Mohair Coats, Summer Coats and Vests in Cretonnes, Marseilles Vests, Duck Vests, Linen Vests, Pique Vests, Linen Dusters, Alpaca Dusters, etc., etc.

In my boys' and children's department I shall close out this week a line of Children's Odd Knee Pants at the remarkably low price of $1 40 per pair. They are regular made, perfect in every respect and will be recognized as one of the biggest bargains of the season

Minneapolis Miller July 1 There has been no change in the flour market the past week. The demand is so light as to be unworthy of the name but millers have settled down for a period of [illegible] and refuse to make anything which resembles a concession. Most of them have sold their entire supply or have it in good hands. There is some comparative scarcity in some grades, but this does not cause an active demand although buyers are showing rather more eagerness than heretofore. The export markets are very well supplied in most lines and are apathetic. As to the future an observant miller said to-day: "We are carrying over about 100 000 000 bu of wheat which is hardly 50,000 000 bus less than we carried over and counted as surplus of the crop of last year. I am inclined to think that much of the talk about short crops abroad is baseless and with this view it seems to me we need not look for much improvement in prices before December. We must work off our surplus before we can expect a change. The large visible supply is a good deal of a bugaboo but it is being talked about in every important market in the world, and has great weight. When we start up again which I think will be about September 1 we shall have a good supply of old wheat to work on, and our flour will be excellent. On this I rely mainly for whatever advance in prices we get before December."

PRODUCE RECEIPTS—Past 48 hours 9142 ctls wheat 150 bbls flour 1872 ctls oats 200 millstuff, 42 027 lbs wool, 3676 lbs hides 56 cs eggs 14 pkgs butter. Also 7318 ctls wheat 1290 ctls oats 209 ctls bran, 8225 lbs wool, 3740 lbs hides from the eastern section.

WHEAT—Foreign markets continue firm. The local market is in very small business with $1 25@1 27 quoted for valley. No sales of Walla Walla have been made; bids and quotation is out of the question.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK July 20.—Governments were dull and firm. The stock market has been decidedly active to-day but without accomplishing the same results reached during the past week. At the opening the room was well supplied with buying orders, which caused prices to open strong and in early dealings some of the more active stocks made further decided advances from Saturday's closing prices of ⅛ to ⅝ per cent. In the afternoon the market was less active but irregular and feverish with a general tendency downward, especially for Union Pacific, Lake Shore and Western Union. A heavy attack upon Union Pacific carried the price of that stock down to 51¼ from 53 at which it opened. There was unusual activity in Oregon and Transcontinental, but it opened and closed with a gain of only ⅛ per cent. Rising in the meantime of 1⅛. Oregon Railway and Navigation is up ¾. The Northern Pacifics were also strong, and each shows a gain of ⅝. Manitoba on sales of 6000 shares is up 3½ after fluctuating between 99½ and 101. Missouri Kansas and Texas is 1 per cent lower, and Missouri Pacific 1¾.

MARK LANE REVIEW

LONDON July 20.—The Mark Lane Express in its review of the British grain trade during the past week says: In the earliest part of the week there were heavy storms in many districts while in others there was scarcely a shower. Since Wednesday the weather has been generally unsettled. Small-eared wheats are becoming a distinctive feature of the season's crop. The appearance of rust about some of the stoutest wheats is attracting attention. The outlook does not improve as July goes by. Sales of English wheat during the week were [illegible] quarters at [illegible] against 31 029 at [illegible] during the corresponding week last year. Foreign wheat is unaltered. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA has demonstrated its power of cure for all diseases of the blood

The Harpooner's Story.

New Bedford, June 1 1883

DR J C AYER & CO—Twenty years ago I was a harpooner in the North Pacific, when five others of the crew and myself were laid up with scurvy. Our bodies were bloated, gums swollen and bleeding, teeth loose, purple blotches all over us, and our breath seemed rotten. Take it by and large we were pretty badly off. All our lime-juice was accidentally destroyed but the captain had a couple dozen bottles of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA and gave us that. We recovered on it quicker than I have ever seen men brought about by any other treatment for scurvy and I've seen a good deal of it. Seeing no mention in your Almanac of your Sarsaparilla being good for scurvy, I thought you ought to know of this and so send you the facts.

Respectfully yours, RALPH V WINGATE

The Trooper's Experience.

Masten Basutoland (S Africa,) March 7, 1883

DR. J C AYER & CO—Gentlemen I have much pleasure in testifying to the great value of your Sarsaparilla. We have been stationed here for over two years, during which time we had to live in tents. Being under canvas for such a time brought on what is called in this country "veldt-sores." I had those sores for some time. I was advised to take your Sarsaparilla, two bottles of which made my sores disappear rapidly, and I am now quite well.

Yours truly, T K BODEN, Trooper, Cape Mounted Riflemen
